

Academic achievement honoured at HHSS

Scores of students receive bursaries, scholarships to help them continue their education

Dozens of scholarships, prizes and pins were awarded to outstanding Haliburton Highlands Secondary School students Saturday night as the school held its annual awards night.

Students from grades nine through 13, as well as those who have now gone on to various post secondary institutions, were presented with awards for their scholastic accomplishments.

The evening began with a banquet in the school's cafeteria and concluded in auditorium in front of hundreds of parents, relatives and friends.

Following the invocation by Rev. George Elliott, remarks from principal Dale Robinson and remarks from awards committee chairman Robert Herlihy, honour bars and plaques were presented to students in years one through five.

Year one honour students were: Carol Anderson, David Barry, Tara Davies, Lori Dunham, Dawn Elliott, Angela Googh, Lisa Jones, Robert MacLeod, Mary Ann Madill, Lisa Malott, Karen Medcalf, Colin Newell, Michael Parish, Paul Penick, Dale Ripley, Shona Ross, Kathleen Shipley, Bernard Upton, Kathleen Walsh, Timothy Wessell, Tracey Wilson, Catherine Woods, and Karen Wright.

Year two students receiving two year honour pins were: Dana Collier, Brian Donaher, Karen Gillespie, Christine Hartin, Catherine Howe, Michele Levesque, Susan Milne, Victor Mitchell, Laura Pickett, Fredrick Roberts, Lynne Stamp, Karen Stewart, and Kristine Storey.

One year honour pins went to: Mark Blackburn, Tracey Henderson, Deborah Ingram, Jessica Powell, Jennifer Stitt, and Signe Tashlin.

Year three students with three years of honours standing were: Craig Bugden, Terry Crowe, Ann Everall, Gregg Feltham, Julie Hayen, Christopher Lodenquai, Katherine Mosgrove, Michael Pearsell, Michael Pearson, Nancy Shipley, Bruce White, James Wooden, and Dawn Wright.

Two year honour awards were given to Terry Allure, Gregory Brown, Shelly Bull, Lyle Donaldson, Phillip Hand, Jacqueline Miller, William Mulholland, Stephen Symonds, and Anthony Van Lieshout.

One year honour students were: Suzanne Carrell, Peter Connelly, Jeffrey Foran, Sheila Harrison, Eileen Henderson, Jane Hicks, Stephen Hogg, Stephen MacNaull, Gregory McKay, Craig Saunders, Peter Schepers, and Wendy Sicard.

Year four students with honours for four year were: Michael Anderson, Bret Austen, Douglas Cross, Andrew Feltham, Karen Hughes, Stephanie Kuno, Ernest Mosgrove, Laurie Sawyer, Jane Taylor, Randy Vanderstarren, and Sharon Williams.

Three year honour students were: Catherine Darby, and Ronald Yake.

Two year honour pins went to: Shane Blakey, Karen Croft, Lisa Dunham, Sean Harrison, Suzanne Penney, and Doris Wolm.

One year honour students were: Marilyn Arsenault, Karen Eager, Lee Finlay, Russell O'Brien and Brent Stromberg.

Year five students with five year honours standing were: Miriam Vanderwal and Michael Wright.

Three year honour students were: William Packard and Karen Snell.

Certificates for perfect attendance were also presented Saturday night. Students honoured for three years of perfect attendance were: Shane Blakey, Robert Heywood, Michael Pearsell, Nancy Shipley, Wendy Sicard, Catherine Tyler, and Wayne Welch.

Students with two years of perfect attendance were: Wayne Beaver, Jeffrey Foran, William Mulholland, and Jeffrey Whitfield.

Honoured for one year, of perfect attendance were: Barbara Adams, Nancy Bagg, Werna Blakey, Leslie

Booth, Kimberley Brown, Dale Brownson, Mary Anne Daigle, Rose Daigle, Chris-

AND MINDEN RECORDER

Vol. 100 No. 10 Wednesday, October 28, 1981 "The Voice of the Highlands" 22 pages 25 cents

Board, teachers ratify contract covering 1981-82

The Haliburton County Board of Education and its secondary school teachers have reached a contract settlement that gives the teachers an average increase of about 13 per cent in the 1981-82 school year.

The contract, finalized at a third mediation session October 5, gives the teachers a 10 per cent increase retroactive to September 1, and a further increase of approximately 3 per cent in January. It will bring the salary of a first year teacher with minimum qualifications to $16,878 immediately, and to $17,300 January 1, while a teacher with maximum qualifications and 11 years experience will earn $36,700 now and $37,000 as of January 1.

Similar increases apply to other positions on the complex grid system that pays teachers according to qualifications and years of experience.

The new contract also provides for payment by the board of fees for university courses successfully completed by teachers. The board paid only a flat fee under earlier contracts.

Updated clauses governing retention of seniority during leaves of absence, payment for teaching experience, personal files and evaluation procedures were also included in the new contract.

Appended to the contract is an agreement establishing a liaison committee to facilitate the implementation of board policy and improve communication between the board and the teachers.

The two sides also agreed to changes within the grid pattern to even out the increases that come with successive years of experience.

A cost of living clause included in two previous one year contracts, has been dropped.

Board negotiating committee chairman Cheryl Murdock said the board was working toward "a provincial average settlement, which I think is what we got."

The salary portion of the agreement is very close to a settlement worked out recently between the Victoria County board and its high school teachers.

Robin Lerpiniere, chairman of the teachers' negotiating committee, said "both sides believe that the grid is now very comparable with surrounding areas."

The teachers and the board praised mediator Eric Run-acres, who was called in after three meetings, when the two sides remained far apart on a number of key issues.

"The mediator was a good experience for both groups," Murdock commented.

According to Lerpiniere "both sides feel positive about the position... (the revamped grid) leaves us in."

Negotiations on a 1982-83 contract are expected to get underway early in the new year.

Railway committee will ask province to appeal closure

The Haliburton and Victoria Counties railway committee will ask the provincial transportation ministry to appeal the abandonment of the Lindsay/Haliburton subdivision.

At a meeting last Thursday, the committee, made up of municipal officials from both counties, agreed to press the Ministry of Transportation and Communications to put the case for leaving the tracks in place to the Canada Transport Commission, which recently gave Canadian National Railways permission to tear up the rails.

Warden Murray Fearney said in an interview that if the province does not agree to challenge the CTC decision, the railway committee intends to take up the cudgel. It will ask that the rail line be

New zoning by-law comes under fire

Ratepayers call for change in lakeshore designation, want by-law delayed

Anson, Hindon and Minden's proposed new zoning by-law is still in draft form but already it has drawn the ire of seasonal residents who fear the by-law will contain a clause designed to limit year round occupancy of residences built on lakeshores.

At an information meeting Saturday, ratepayers spoke out against a "recreational residential" zone included in the draft by-law, despite the fact that consultant Tony Holmes stressed that the clause would be removed before the by-law is finalized.

Holmes, of the firm of Proctor and Redfern whom council has retained to formulate the new by-law, emphasized from the outset of the meeting that "it is not the intention of the by-law to interfere with anyone's residence arrangements."

Holmes said "there is a movement afoot in the province through zoning by-laws to introduce seasonal residence" designations, which imply seasonal occupancy restrictions.

"It was our advice to the township that that be avoided," Holmes told the audience which filled every available seat in the Minden council chamber. He said in inclusion of a clause under the "recreational residential" designation that implies seasonal rather than year round use was an error, and that it would be removed in subsequent drafts. He also stressed that the recreational residential zone could be changed to "residential" if council and ratepayers wanted it to be done.

The consultant's statements did little to quell the anger of people who had come to the meeting looking for a verbal fight, however.

When Holmes said, in reply to a question from the audience, that he did not know what wording would be substituted to replace the offending clause, the questioner countered that the response was "not very satisfactory", while another claimed the recreational residential designation was "discriminatory."

Low McCortison, president of the Soyers Lake Property Owners' Association, agreed with claim that the timing of the meeting was poor, and in a prepared statement, attacked the proposed by-law.

"I think it fails totally to recognize existing uses, particularly on lakeshore property," McCortison said. Under the old by-law lakeshore dwellings were simply zoned "residential", a designation which carried no restrictions other than those that apply to all dwellings, such as square footage and setbacks. Ratepayers, he said "are not going to give up" the right to live year round at their cottages. He said they are entitled to a "continuation of what was recognized" when they bought their properties.

McCortison said that in November, the Ministry of Municipal Affairs and Housing will publish a study containing guidelines for seasonal residential zones

Snowmobile club plans new measure to raise trail funds

by SUE COOPER
Staff Reporter

Although the Ministry of Natural Resources will partially fund the county this winter, the Haliburton County Snowmobile Association has decided to implement a temporary membership scheme to help pay for trail maintenance.

At its annual general meeting Saturday, the club decided to implement a $5 temporary membership to allow riders a week's use of the trails. The cost includes a trail map and a $5 voucher redeemable on the purchase of a full-fledged membership, president Tom Prentice said Monday.

Earlier in the autumn, the MNR announced it would not be providing any funding for development and grooming of snowmobile trails in the province. However, after many snowmobile associations balked at the timing of the announcement, the MNR has implemented a program that offers approximately half the grants available in other years.

Last year the Haliburton club received about $13,000 from the ministry while their total budget was $48,000. Prentice said the club was hard-pressed to work within its budget last year and with the decrease in funding this year, maintaining the trails will be more difficult.

Although the interim program offering funding this year has been announced, the snowmobile association and the Minden District of the MNR are unsure what funds will be available. Prentice said the club might receive approximately 40 per cent of last year's $13,000 grant.

John Davidson, MNR representative, said he agreed with Prentice's estimate.

In the past, the club has raised its share of the money through raffles, dances, and other fund-raising events, but Prentice said even those avenues can be taxed too heavily.

Although the association is not in extremely serious circumstances, Prentice said "it's going to be tough, darn tough" to raise the extra money.

"It's just $13,000 that we don't know where we're going to raise," he explained.

As well as the $5 temporary membership, which will be available at many businesses around the county and the Chamber of Commerce, the regular memberships of $25 will also apply to club members. However, trappers, property owners (whose land the trails cross) and government agencies will still be offered free memberships.

As well, Prentice said the club was fortunate to receive offers of assistance from two county businesses. The Brown Owl in Minden has offered to pay for all the gasoline needed to operate one of the Bombi trail groomers while the Minden Texaco will be assisting with $200 in gasoline and repairs for the Bombi.

"We've got to coax the people and coax the business people into supporting us," Prentice said.

Davidson said the MNR hopes to start processing grant applications next week although the process is still undefined. Grants are usually allotted to clubs near the middle of December and Davidson hopes money will also be available by that time this year.

"We'll process them as fast as we can," he said.

Board appoints new trustee

The Haliburton County Board of Education has appointed Bonnie Lee Barry to fill the seat left vacant in September by the resignation of Anson, Hindon and Minden trustee H. Lloyd Johnson.

Barry, a former teacher and longtime resident of the Minden area, was one of four people considered for the position.

Her appointment, which was approved at a meeting last Tuesday, is effective immediately.

Briefly...

Children find dynamite

Two Minden children escaped injury when they found a box of dynamite in a quarry near their home, Saturday afternoon.

Sid Stamp, of Minden Township, told police his son, Greg, and Cory Davis of Minden had discovered the dynamite.

Officers from the Identification Unit in Peterborough spent most of Sunday disposing of more than two dozen sticks of dynamite and numerous blasting caps. The material was burned at the location where it was discovered.

The matter is still under investigation.

Car, truck collide

No one was injured when a 1980 Honda struck a 1975 GMC pick-up turning onto the Minden by-pass of Highway 35, last Monday.

Maurice Williams, 52 of Ancaster, was heading south when his car struck the left side of a truck driven by Alfred Titus, 76 of Guilford Township. The truck was turning onto Highway 35 to head north.

The Honda received an estimated $3,000 damage while the pick-up sustained $1,500 damage.

Titus was charged with failing to yield the right of way.

Van damaged

A van loaded with firewood, was severely damaged Saturday afternoon when it rolled backwards down a hill and into a ditch, then flipped on its side causing $12,000 damage.

Gordon Mark Cain, 21 of Mississauga, was driving his van up a steep hill on the Harburn Road in Harburn Township when the vehicle stalled and rolled downhill.

Man slightly hurt

A Gooderham man received minor injuries when his van went into a ditch along highway 502 near Gooderham.

John Ernest Deltor, 37, was charged with failing to report the accident and failing to wear his seatbelt. The accident happened at 4 a.m. Sunday. The 1978 van sustained an estimated $3,000 damage.

Occurrences investigated

During the period October 19 to 25 the staff at the Minden detachment of the Ontario Provincial Police investigated 66 general occurrences.

Ten motor vehicle collisions, one non-reportable, were investigated, and one person was injured. Four break and enters, nine thefts, three lost and found occurrences and two damage complaints were also investigated.

Fort Irwin residents get grant to build new hall

The Fort Irwin Residents Association has received a grant of $21,072 to assist in the construction and furnishing of a new meeting centre in the community.

The numbers of seniors joining the group has swelled to 80 members, and the need for a meeting centre has grown. Joan Filman, president of the association said Monday. Presently the group is meeting in members' homes but that is becoming inadequate, Filman explained.

"We just have to have a building," she explained.

The grant, provided through New Horizons, will allow the group to have a building for meetings as well as craft activities, Filman said.

The money covers approximately 50 per cent of the construction costs of the 24 foot by 40 foot frame building and the cost of completing the inside and furnishing the meeting area.

Although the group had hoped to receive approval of its grant application in September to allow construction to begin this year, Filman said building will probably commence in April.

During the winter, the group will be busy fundraising to cover its 50 per cent of the building cost.

New manager settles into duties

John Sutherland is settling into his duties as the new manager at the Bank of Montreal in Haliburton Village.

Sutherland, his wife Laura and their three children Lisa, 8, Greg, 6, and David, 4, came to Haliburton October 16.

Sutherland's duties at the local branch began October

19. Previous manager Bob Bannister has moved on to a branch in North Bay.

Before coming to Haliburton, Sutherland was assistant manager in the main office in Cornwall. After living in a highly industrialized area like Cornwall, Sutherland is interested in the new opportunities facing him in Haliburton County.

Originally from Barrie, Sutherland has worked with the bank in Barrie, Walkerton, Alliston, Toronto, Queen's University in Kingston and Cornwall.

Describing himself as "basically an easy-going guy", Sutherland said he and his family are interested in becoming involved in the community.

Warden unhappy with zone study

Haliburton County warden Murray Fearrey has expressed dissatisfaction with the Peterborough Haliburton Zone Study released at a meeting of the Central Ontario Travel Association two weeks ago.

The study, prepared at a cost of $125,000 by the firm of Laventhol and Horwath, "didn't go far enough," Fearrey told a meeting of Haliburton County council last Wednesday. "They weren't consistent in developing policies for the county."

"It's no secret that Haliburton County has the greatest need for DREE (funding) in the province," Fearrey said, "but if you look at the report, it looks like everything is okay. That's why I'm saying they didn't go far enough."

He said the consultants talked to no county councillors, and to no people in the manufacturing sector, although they did contact several people involved in the local tourist industry.

As an example of what the consultants missed in their look at the county, Fearrey cited the Stanhope airport, which is not addressed. The omission might lead people to believe that the airport is as good as it needs to be "but we all know that it should be lighted and paved at some point if it's going to be an attraction," the warden said.

He suggested that council establish some proposals of its own and meet with industry and tourism representatives to detail "what we want" in the study.

Brydges, are Ruth Roy Lake near Sudbury, and North Grace Lake in Lawrence Township, which feeds into Louisa Lake, one of Algonquin Park's prime lake trout habitats.

The selection process has been a difficult one, he said. "In very few cases do you find all the things you need." As well, Brydges said, "we're very reluctant to sacrifice, as it were, any of the key study lakes" such as Blue Chalk and Red Chalk, for which five year data has been compiled.

The MOE is also staying in close touch with scientists in Sweden, where a massive neutralization program is underway, Brydges said. But he noted that care must be taken not to confuse abatement with neutralization. Liming may help save key lakes, but only through abatement will the danger of acid rain be reduced.

"It's better to do something than to see something die," Brydges said, "but as a solution to the problem, there's no way we're going to lime the whole of eastern Canada."

He emphasized that while many of Ontario's lakes are undergoing stress from acidic precipitation, the number of 'dead' lakes is small.

"We've got tens of thousands of lakes that are going, but they're not gone yet. It's important to recognize that," Brydges told council.

Asked if the problem is getting worse in area lakes, Brydges said that with "a couple of exceptions," "everything we have says it's holding its own."

However, he said, there is a marked depression in the Ph levels of lakes every spring, and "you can't keep doing that without seeing a trend."

While the chemistry is not showing permanent trends, there may be changes in the biological system that we don't see. We don't know. A number of observations on algae suggest that there is a change."

The problem of acid loading is not restricted to the spring, scientists have discovered. In late August and early September this year, area lakes received 10 per cent of their annual input of rain, but 20 per cent of the input of acid. At one point during the rainy period water flowing into lakes "reached spring conditions" with some streams exhibiting a Ph as low as 4, Brydges said. The low level lasted only a day, however, while in the spring, the highest acid stress lasts "from three or four days to a couple of weeks."

Asked if the algae growth often associated with acidification is occurring in the area, Brydges replied that "there is no doubt we're getting some strange algal growth." Some of the species which are growing "we know are a response to acid stress."

An experiment is currently underway near Kenora in which a lake is being deliberately acidified to chart what happens, and according to Brydges "we're finding more effects than we had thought."

"A heated controversy" is also developing over the effects of acid rain on forests, according to Brydges. It is now that acid rain increases the concentration of metals in groundwater, and that higher than normal aluminum levels have been found in the roots of trees in areas where acid rain is common.

Recently, a theory has been put forth that the aluminum concentrated in the roots reduces their ability to absorb water and causes "dieback" in dry years.

"Some suspicious dieback" has been seen in Adirondacks, where acid precipitation is also a problem, Brydges said, but as yet there is no definitive proof that acid rain is implicated.

In conclusion, Brydges asked council to give some thought to the role it would like to play in future programs centred in Haliburton County. He suggested that role could be an public one, could centre on public relations, or could simply involve moral support.

Council is expected to consider its position as programs develop.

Rail committee seeks support

left in place until a mineral resources study currently underway in Victoria County is completed, and until the tourism zone study unveiled two weeks ago can be examined in detail.

The committee will also repeat Ontario Hydro's assertion that the line would be needed to transport replacement transformers should one or more of the huge devices at the Minden sub-station fail.

Through the appeal process, the committee hopes to buy time to negotiate with CN on the fate of the rail line and right-of-way. At the very least, the committee will try to ensure that the rails are left in place for a period of years, after which the line's status can be reviewed.

At a meeting of county council, last Wednesday, however, the warden appeared to hold out little hope that the CTC decision can be overturned. He termed the abandonment "a very difficult problem to deal with", pointing out that the railway committee had "no new evidence" with which to launch an appeal.

Another factor which may weaken the committee's case is the tourism zone study completed for the Ministry of Industry and Tourism by the firm of Laventhol and Horwath. The study did not support the concept of a steam tourist train from Lindsay to Haliburton, saying that if a train were to operate, it should go no farther than Fenelon Falls.

Asked why they did not advocate a train to Haliburton, the consultants said the route north of Fenelon Falls was less scenic than the section to the south, Fearrey said.

"I don't know what line they were on," he commented. "I don't think they were on any."

If CN rips up the rails despite the appeals, separate negotiations would have to begin for control of the right-of-way, the warden indicated. At the very least, he said, efforts will be made to have the bridges left in place.

The Haliburton County Snowmobile Association has already indicated in a letter to county council, that the right-of-way could be turned into a snowmobile trail.

There has been no indication of when CN intends to begin removing the rails and related equipment.

Snowmobile group elects executive

The Haliburton County Snowmobile Association elected its new executive for the 1981-82 season.

Re-elected as president was Tom Prentice. Steve Barry was re-elected as vice president. Other members elected to the executive were Janet Tedford, secretary; Doug Tedford, treasurer;

COMMENT

EDITORIALS

On listening

The three members of Anson, Hindon and Minden council who attended a meeting on the proposed new zoning by-law last Saturday may not have liked the antagonistic attitude of the audience, but they should not have been surprised. Throughout its term, the present council has consistently given ratepayers reason to be suspicious about the way the affairs of the municipality are being conducted. By repeatedly closing its doors to the public, council has fostered the impression -- however false -- that it has something to hide, or that it is simply unwilling to tolerate public scrutiny on key issues.

In the case of the zoning by-law, council found itself embroiled in a controversy not entirely of its own making that could have been cooled if the reeve or councillors had cut through the rhetoric and provided the simple assurances ratepayers were seeking. At the heart of the matter is a clause in the draft by-law which appears designed to preclude year round occupancy of lakeshore cottages. Consultant Tony Holmes assured ratepayers that the offending clause (4.18.5) would be stricken from subsequent drafts, but they were not satisfied. Stirred up by the rhetoric of Soyers Lake property owners' association president Lew McCorriston, the audience refused to take Holmes' statement at face value. What was needed to quell the anger was a forceful statement by the reeve or councillors to the effect that the ratepayers' concerns would be heeded. Alas, that statement never came. Instead, the reeve provided the vague pronouncement that "we'll certainly look into it." And there the matter stood when the meeting broke up.

The controversy surrounding the by-law was a classic example of how needless friction can develop between seasonal residents and a council if that council is unable to deal swiftly and effectively with reasonable concerns. On the question of the recreational residential designation, the ratepayers came armed to make a legitimate point. They would tolerate no by-law that tried to limit their right to retire to their cottage. But it was clear from the outset that council had no intention of limiting year round residency. Holmes was at pains to explain that the offending designation would be changed, and council should have wasted no time in corroborating his statement. Because it did not, the ratepayers refused to take Holmes' words at face value. And since council, not the consultant, makes the final decision, perhaps they were right.

The Soyers Lake president also had a sound point when he asked council to put the by-law in abeyance until the long awaited lakeshore capacity study is released next spring. The study could provide a scientific means of establishing how many cottages should be built on a particular lake, and the new zoning by-law should recognize its conclusions.

But the ratepayers were wrong in suggesting that council should have timed the completion of the draft by-law to coincide with the summer season. No one doubts that seasonal residents have an important role to play in Haliburton County, and that their concerns should be recognized. But seasonal residents must also recognize that municipalities operate 12 months a year, not two, and that important decisions have to be made all year round in the interests not only of cottagers, but of the people who live and work in the county on a permanent basis. Seasonal residents have ample opportunity to keep abreast of council's actions through local newspapers and through their lake associations, and it is simply unreasonable for cottage owners to think that every action and decision should be geared to accommodate their schedules.

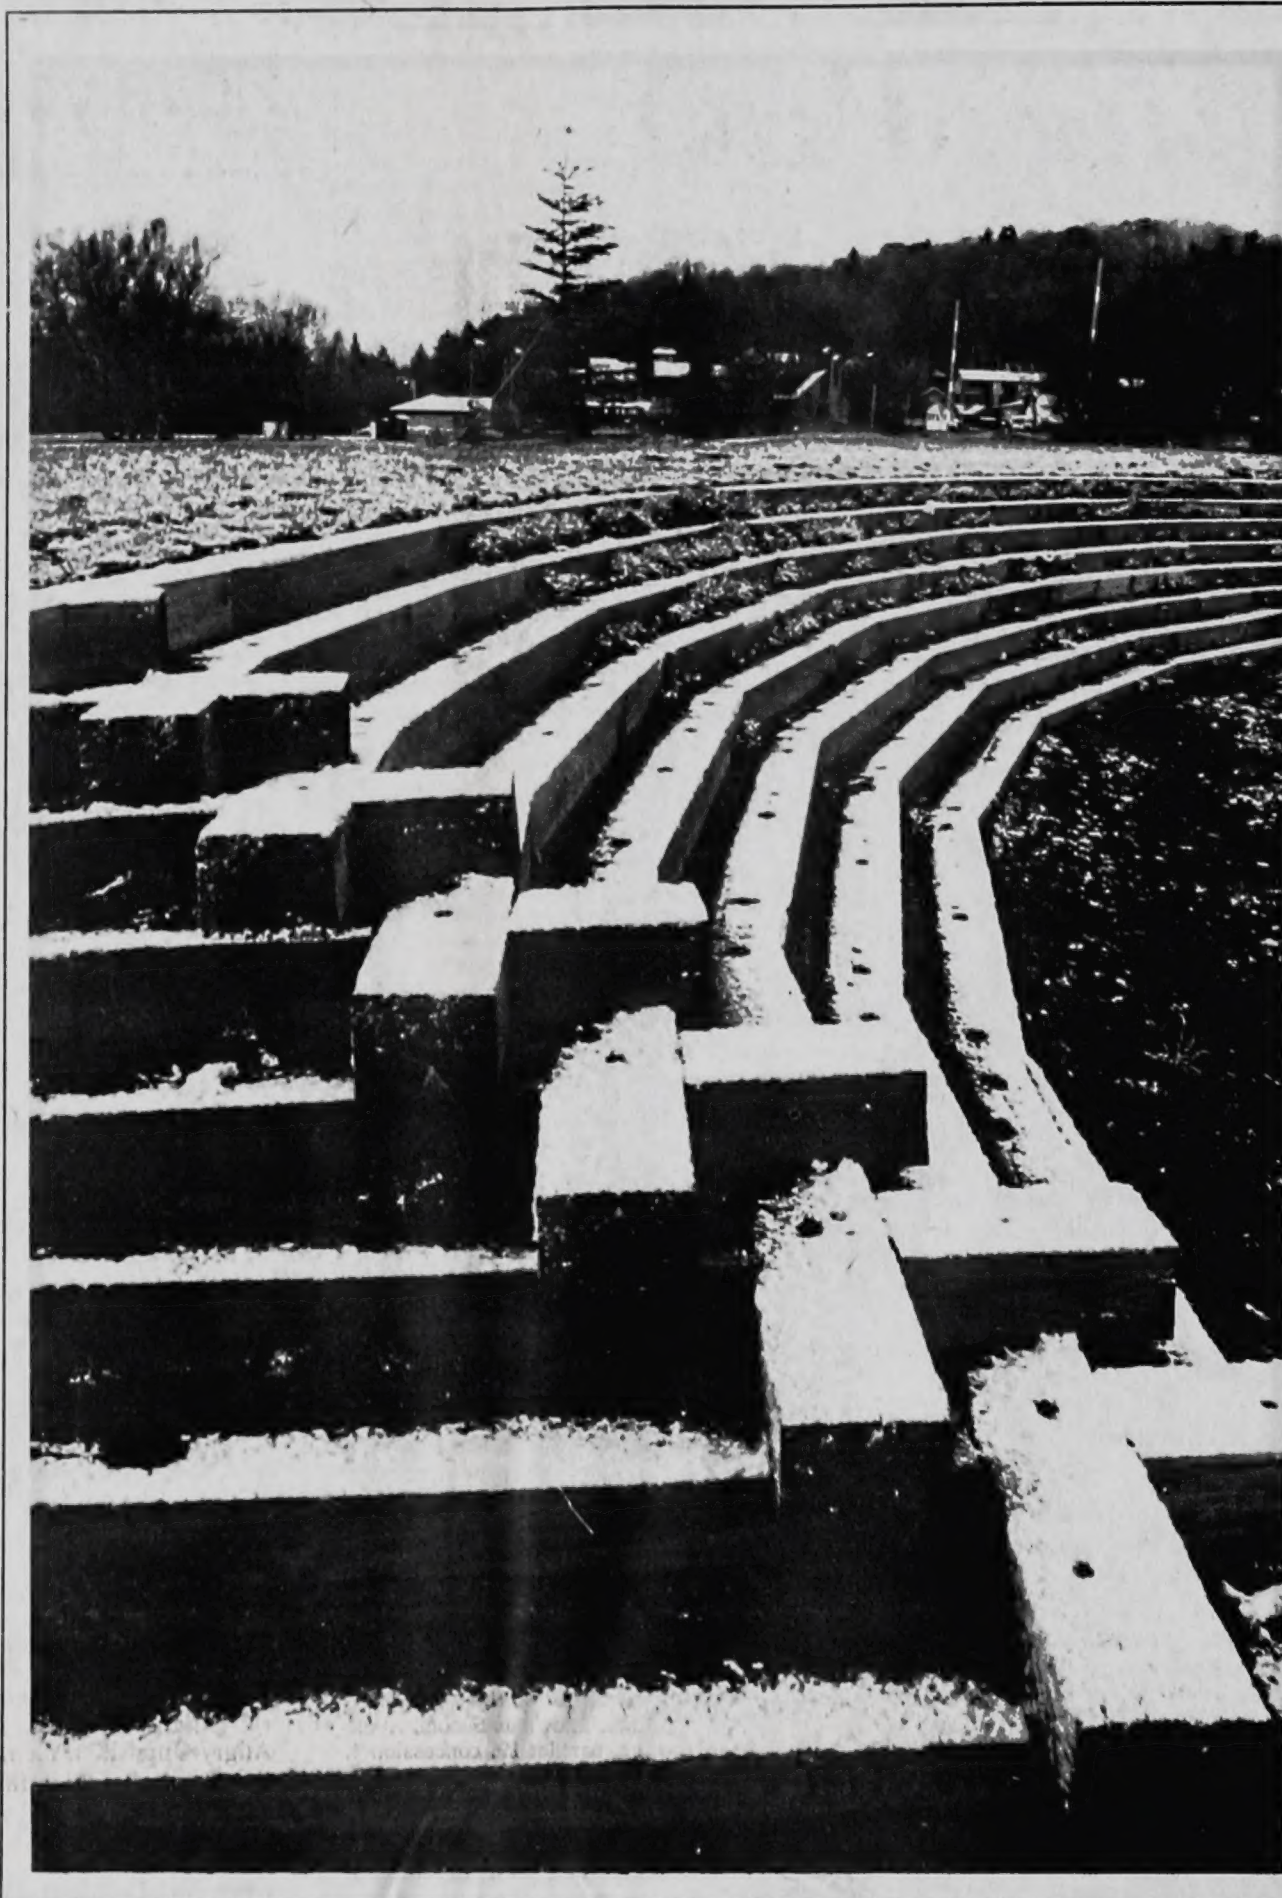

Council indicated Saturday that future meetings will be held to discuss the proposed zoning by-law before it is formally adopted. It is to be hoped that a spirit of conciliation, not antagonism, will prevail the next time council and the ratepayers get together.

Good examples

Anyone who doubts that the number of young people with the discipline and motivation to succeed far outstrips the number whose interests don't go much beyond pinball and dope smoking, would have had their eyes opened if they had attended the awards ceremony at HHSS last Saturday. There, before the audience of proud parents, relatives and friends, scores of young people received accolades for their academic achievement.

Awards night is an important exercise, not only because it provides students with scholarships and bursaries to help them further their education, but because it stands as a counterpoint to the indolence and irresponsibility of a small number of the community's youth.

All those who were honoured deserve the heartiest congratulations not only of their family and friends, but of the community as a whole.

Snowmobilers do pay, reader contends

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:

I would like to take issue with your editorial of September 30 entitled "Let Users Pay", in regards to the snowmobile trails in this county in which you state that we are looking for handouts from the government. You do not seem to realize that every machine pays a license fee of $10 per year for a season of two to four months, depending on snow conditions and requires gas from 15 to 30 miles to the gallon to operate, plus the tax on the machine in the first place. I would like to know what we get in return. We are asked, and forced in most instances to keep off the roads. How are the roads for automobiles etc. maintained, do they not use the license fees and a percentage of the gas tax to do this? Oh, but the snowmobile is a luxury you say, what about the second (or third) vehicle in most homes, the motor homes, motorcycles etc., should they pay user fees to use the roads?

You do not seem to realize just how much winter business the snowmobile has brought to this county, a few years ago in winter the week-end traffic was no heavier than during the week, now during the snowmobile season it looks like the summer traffic with vehicle after vehicle loaded with snow machines. How much money do you suppose they leave in the area? Another aspect of snowmobile clubs with their groomed trails that has proven to be a great asset, is the diminishing of problems with riders on private property, in towns, over septic systems, etc. with the accompanying noise.

As for ourselves, instead of taking our holiday money and going to some southern part of the United States to spend it, we spend it snowmobiling in our own county, and by the time we buy our license, insurance and fuel, we feel that we are paying our way, and yes we do pay our annual fees to the local club, but we wonder where our license fee and a percentage of our gas tax goes.

You stated that we are looking for a handout from the government to support our trails, whose hand takes our license fees and fuel tax and offers nothing in return?

Thank you for printing this letter.

Shaking hands an important ritual

Editor's Notebook

by LEN PIZZEY

If the coach of the Parry Sound Shamrocks has his way, the Haliburton Huskies will no longer end their games with the ritual of shaking hands. According to a story in the Toronto Star, Ray Barks has ordered his players not to shake hands with their opponents after the final buzzer sounds. Two players have quit the team over Barks' demands, but he remains firm. In fact, he intends to press his case before the league executive in hopes of banning the tradition entirely. And the reason for this bizarre stand? Barks thinks it will reduce the chances of a fight breaking out after the game. He fears opposing players may say something to each other when they meet in the handshake lineup, and that a brawl involving the whole team could easily break out.

According to the Star article, Barks believes his stand is in keeping with the league's wish to clean up the game. So far the league has not made a decision on the issue, but it is to be hoped that they reject it.

Barks seems to have lost sight of the fact that hockey is a game, and that part of that game is sportsmanship. On the ice, in the heat of the game, tempers sometimes flare. But when the game ends, so too should the hostilities. Shaking hands is not only an expression of good will; it is an opportunity to put the game in perspective, to congratulate opponents on their play and to say 'thanks' for the competition. Rather than banning handshaking, coaches should simply make it clear that anyone who fights on the ice after a game will not be welcome in the lineup for a game or two. Peer pressure and a desire to play the game should take care of any urge to take on ice rivalries too far.

It will be a sad day for the Junior C league if handshaking is banned. It will indicate that the League believes players and coaches lack the maturity to see hockey as a game between rivals rather than as a ritualistic war between enemies.

Feir Play

by Creighton Feir

When Vince Lombardi was coach of the Green Bay Packers of the NFL his motto was: "Winning isn't everything, it's the only thing." I personally believe this to be true but I don't think that it has to be done at all costs. Take for instance the case of the Montreal Expos who were eliminated from the baseball playoffs after coming all the way and only needing one victory to put them into the World Series for the very first time. You can't tell me that in the final game with the Dodgers that the Expos didn't think that winning was the only thing. The loss by one home run was hard medicine to have to take but in a fifth and deciding game like the one played between the Dodgers and the Expos anything can happen. A bad bounce of the ball can lose it for you, an erratic throw can cost you one or two runs or a home run just like the one that did the Expos in can do the trick. It seems a shame that a team like the Expos had to lose out after coming so close after such a very long season of hard fought games. After a game is over it seems very easy for most of us armchair managers to come up with the answers and speak out on just what manager Jim Fanning should have done and what he should not have done. The only call I would question is when starting pitcher Ray Burris was pulled in favour of a pinch hitter. In this case it looked like the wrong call as pinch hitter Tim Wallach popped up in the infield. If he had hit a home run with the two men who were on base at the time the Expos would have won the game and Fanning would have turned out to be a national hero. The situation could have been much different if Fanning had left Burris in the game to pitch to the remaining hitters. According to the Toronto dailies Burris claimed that he was getting stronger as the game progressed and that he felt good. In my opinion he could have polished the Dodgers off. Starter Steve Rogers came in and dished up a home run pitch to the Dodgers Rick Monday and it was all over. If you wanted to second guess the manager one could suggest a relief pitcher such as Jeff Reardon or Woodie Fryman. But let's face the fact that the Expos big guns such as Carter, Parrish, Dawson and Raines were just not hitting. These power hitters have to be swinging those big bats if the Expos are to win. In my opinion no other team in sports history ever pulled the people of Canada together like those amazing Montreal Expos. They gave us all something to cheer about and they also reminded all Canadians that it's really good to have something to be excited about.

There is one place that you are always welcome and that is at the Community Christian Concern Centre in the old Curry house next to the Liquor store on Haliburton's main street. You are welcome anytime to browse around in the bookstore, sit down in a comfortable chair in the lounge with refreshments that are free. If you want quiet prayer or peace visit the little chapel. Perhaps you would like the listening ear of a Spiritual Counsellor - a minister is on duty every morning each week. The 4C's is being evaluated and new youth work and teaching are being brought into focus. A noon hour Bible study takes place every Thursday with Rev. Trevor Denny leading the study on Philipians. The 4C's building is there for the use of everyone and it is certainly proving to be a great benefit to the community.

The local hockey teams from Haliburton and surrounding area who have been practising at the Haliburton arena for the past couple of months should have the jump on many other clubs who will be visiting us this year. For the third year in a row the ice was left in the arena following the activities of the summer hockey school. The minor hockey schedule is underway, the Huskies are in full flight and most of the players no matter what age should be in great condition. It is certainly wonderful when one thinks of the advantages we have with artificial ice.

The Rotary Club of Haliburton has announced that they will not be selling Christmas trees this year but will support the Arc Industries programme. The club will also start this fall to make much needed repairs on the locomotive which is located near the high school.

It has been brought to our attention that several of the Funeral Card notices which have been placed in the post office lobbies in Minden and Haliburton are being taken by people before the service has been held. These notices are put there as a public service in the hope of notifying the public, may pay their respects or offer their condolences to the family. These cards are paid for by the family and unless they want to give them away following the funeral, they should not be picked up.

Wednesday, October 28 (tonight) at 8 p.m. at the Haliburton Senior Elementary School is the last film in the "Focus on the Family" series, "What Wives Wish Their Husbands Knew About Women: Money, Sex and Children".

A few weeks ago Jim Ward of Haliburton presented us with a most unusual carrot. It seems that when Jim went to pick the carrots from his garden he noticed that one of the carrots had grown up through the neck of a bottle that had been left in the garden.

Just a reminder here that there will be a Halloween party for young people with music, costumes, fun this Saturday evening, October 31, from 8:00 p.m. to 11:00 p.m. at the 4C's Community Christian Concern Centre on Highland Street in Haliburton. There will also be an Open House on the same date from 9:30 a.m. to 4:00 p.m. with free coffee and tea. Everyone is welcome.

VIEWPOINT

Pic of the Past

Many of our readers will recall the years 1934-35 when the highway was first under construction between Haliburton and Minden. A total of 140 men were employed in Camp #2 shown in the above photo which was located at the top of the Allsaw Hill. The men who worked 10 hours a day, 6 days a week received a wage of $10 a month and their board. The men shown standing in the picture from the right: Mr. Cooney, cook from Toronto, Langley, second cook and Nick Boyko. We are unable to identify the other two men. The superintendent at that time was Bill Silverthorn and later on it was Joe Blair. Our thanks to Allan Howe of Haliburton for giving us permission to use this most interesting photo.

Have your say at the annual meeting

From the Chamber

by Bob Stinson

This newspaper is published on the day of our annual meeting, so by the time many of you read this you will already have taken part in a day of meaningful workshops designed to help you in the profitable operation of your business. Many will also have enjoyed the annual banquet and taken part in the election of the Board of Directors that will guide the Chamber for the next year. They will also have joined us in honouring this year's Highlander of the Year and heard from the executive the plans and hopes for the future.

For those of you who were not in attendance, we are sorry you missed the event. We do hope you will find an opportunity to get up-to-date on the informative workshops and seminars that you missed. We also hope you will endorse and support the board that was elected by your fellow members in your absence. Your membership in the Chamber entitles you to say in the organization and the annual meeting is the logical forum to exercise that right. It's a shame if you missed that opportunity.

Economic Development makes "House Calls"
The Haliburton County Economic Development Commission feels that one of the best potential ways to encourage more development in the county is to work with the business people that are already here. They are convinced that there are many who have the ideas and probably the expertise to expand or diversify into other areas of business but for some reason or other are not moving in this direction. It may be financial assistance, or advice on the market potential, or just a matter of wanting reassurance that the idea would work.

In view of this the E.D.C. has retained John Fleming of Haliburton to visit members of the business community and talk to them about their plans and concerns. Mr. Fleming is a retired executive whose background ranges through the publishing business, transport, manufacturing and the armed forces. He is making it a point to become familiar with all the federal and provincial programs that may be available to business men for their assistance. He will also be bringing problems that he becomes aware of to the commission meetings to see if they can uncover solutions to them. If you have something you would like to talk over with him call the Chamber office at 286-1760 and we can set up an appointment. It is quite appropriate that the Commission has started this excellent new program during Small Business Week. We look forward to seeing the successes we know it will encourage.

Galway/Cavendish council condemns use of herbicides

At the most recent meeting of Galway/Cavendish council, the following matters were considered:

Ron McHugh from Ontario Hydro Peterborough attended the meeting to outline the procedure hydro would be using to spray the undergrowth on the hydro right of ways in the Cavendish area.

Gordon Ream, a concerned ratepayer on Beaver Lake, attended the meeting to represent other ratepayers in the area and presented concerns on the use of herbicides to spray foliage on right-of-ways over private property.

Council agreed it is opposed to Ontario Hydro's indiscriminate use of herbicides along their right of ways and Ontario Hydro and the ratepayer associations in the township will be so notified of council's position in this regard.

W. Huels attended the meeting to discuss the proposed new "Planning Act" and the proposal from the County of Peterborough with regard to a County Planner who would provide services on a needs basis to local municipalities.

Members of Council and Planning Board representatives were authorized to attend the Planning Information meeting being conducted by the General Government Services Committee of the County of Peterborough with regard to the provisions of the proposed Planning Act at the Smith Community Centre, Lakefield and committee fees and out of pocket expenses will apply.

A Mr. Harper attended the meeting to receive the appraisal that the township had acquired for the road allowance known as Second Avenue, part lot 19, concession 4, Cavendish, which Messrs. Berhardt and Harper wish to purchase.

Mr. & Mrs. Goddard and Mr. & Mrs. Howard Bernhardt attended the meeting to discuss the closure of the 66 foot road allowance between concession 4 and 5, lot 19, Cavendish. Council advised them to submit a formal application to the Township office along with the required fees. They were also informed that council would support their application if it was received and supported by both adjacent applicants.

The Saturday, October 10, 1981 council meeting was changed to Saturday, October 17 at 12:30 p.m.

What's under the hood is a mystery

Serendipity

by SUE COOPER

The first snowfall has landed in Haliburton County and The Echo has published its Fall Car Care Guide. It has to be that time of year.

Every year about this time, or a little later if you're a procrastinator, most people in the area start preparing their vehicles for the long cold months ahead. And for this reason The Echo published the car care guide to let car owners know who can help them to don their vehicle's armour plating.

But there seems to be one short coming in this year's guide. Last year, as some people who are still laughing might remember, I won the glorious job of modelling for a number of car care photos. I was pictured looking in the windshield wiper fluid container, checking the anti-freeze level, pulling out the oil dip stick, checking the brake fluid, and even testing the tire pressure.

This scenario might not seem extremely hilarious to anyone who is not well-acquainted with my mechanical expertise but anyone who is, is still laughing.

Me, check the oil? Hardly. You see, I have one of those little red lights on the dash that flashes when something is wrong with the engine. If you don't glance at the dash quickly enough the flashing light can sometimes be ignored, for a few days at least. Then, it begins to come on when the ignition switch is turned on and only goes out after the key is turned off. Usually after about a month of driving with the good old idiot light as company, I remember to ask the gas station attendant to check the oil.

"Ma'am, it doesn't seem to register on the stick."

"Oh great, throw in four quarts and I won't have to bother changing it for a while." Not that it would ever cross my mind to do so.

Windshield wiper fluid, well that's another story. That is usually filled on a regular basis. I fill it regularly once a year.

I don't fill it annually myself, but someone often takes pity on the poor Pinto and gives me the left-over remains of their bottle.

It's great stuff, but it usually doesn't last long. Somewhat like a delicious Christmas dinner when it's always so much fun to eat that you don't stop until everything is gone. Then you wait for next year to roll around again.

Tire pressures, alas, have always been a perplexing problem. Why I wonder, would anyone bother to check their tire pressure when there was no puncture in their tire? What goes in must stay in right? A theory worth proving. With this theory I believe I could wipe out the tire pressure gauge business entirely and then no one would ever have to take their tire pressure again. Dirty-kneed mechanics unite.

As far as the rest goes, I couldn't care less; checking the anti-freeze, putting on snow tires, measuring the brake fluid, and making sure hoses are in good condition isn't for me. No siree. My guardian angel has been looking after the Pinto and I for a long time and we're going to keep counting on her.

Car care guide or not, the Pinto keeps rolling on.

Redmen tops in 'must win'

Kawartha championship scheduled in Haliburton

Despite abysmal field conditions caused by unseasonably early snow, the Haliburton high school Redmen came up big in a 'must win' game Friday, defeating I.E. Weldon secondary school 19-10. The victory earned the Redmen the Kawartha West league title and set the stage for a playoff game this Thursday to determine which of the two teams will advance to the Kawartha District AA championship match in Peterborough.

Three snowblowers and five hours of work were required before the field was clear enough to play on, but nothing could be done about the mud, which reduced traction and made it tough for runners and receivers to hang onto the ball.

The Redmen took to the field determined to avenge their one point loss at the hands of Weldon a week ago and knowing that they had to win by more than one point to gain home field advantage for the playoff match. A loss would have left I.E. Weldon undefeated and ended the season for the Redmen.

Both teams had trouble mounting a consistent offense in the early going, as quarterbacks and ball carriers felt the effects of wet, cold conditions.

Haliburton's best chance came when they moved the ball to within 20 yards of Weldon's goal line, but a bad snap resulted in a fumble and Weldon came up with the ball.

In the second quarter both teams again found it tough to establish offensive game, but Weldon got on the board with a 15 yard field goal to take a 3-0 lead. As the half wound down the Redmen notched a single point on a punt and the score stood at 3-1.

In the third quarter the Redmen began to click, marching 60 yards downfield and notching six points on a six yard off tackle plunge by Scott Arbuthnot.

Hoping to move six points in front, the Redmen gambled on a two point conversion and on a quarterback option play. Tim Davies pitched out to Kevin Shapiera who powered into the endzone.

The conversion gave the Redmen a 9-3 lead.

Haliburton's defense played a big part in keeping the team in the game, negating Weldon's offense on a number of key series.

The Redmen soon found themselves with a chance for a second touchdown, after a Weldon punt from their own 20 yard line was picked up on the 40 by Tim Davies, who carried to within six yards of the endzone. Two plays later Davies handed off to Kevin Shapiera on an off tackle plunge that gave the Redmen a 15-3 lead.

Haliburton lined up in kicking formation for the convert attempt, but again the Redmen gambled as Ron Yake passed the ball back to Davies, who found Mike Hatkoski all alone in the endzone for another two point conversion.

At that point the Redmen and their fans began to feel that the game was well in

The Haliburton Redmen and their rivals from I.E. Weldon secondary school in Lindsay found out last Friday that football and early winter don't mix. Snowblowers were used for five hours to clear the field of snow, but patches of it remained near the sidelines, and inevitably, players found themselves slipping, sliding and sometimes crashing into the wet, cold piles. The Redmen came up with a big win despite the poor conditions, however, defeating Weldon 19-10. This Thursday the teams will again meet in Haliburton to decide who will go on to the Kawartha District championship in Peterborough.

Midgets could top the league, opened season with three wins

Haliburton's OMHA Midgets brought out the heavy ammunition for a game in Lindsay, Saturday, blasting 16 shots into their opponents' net while giving up only three goals.

It was the second impressive win in as many starts for the Midgets, who show every sign of topping their league at this early point in the season.

Bernie Upton, Scott Rae and Kevin Warburton were the top scorers for the Midgets, while Steve Smith, Barry Boice, Jamie Bennett and Kelly Mitchell also notched goals.

Haliburton dominated play throughout the game, and were able to score almost at will. They took a 1-0 lead less than two minutes after the opening faceoff when Bennett passed to Mitchell. Lindsay tied the score a little more than three minutes later, but the game was never close after that point.

By the end of the period,

Haliburton had a 3-1 lead on goals by Barry Boice from Steve Smith and Kevin Warburton, and Bernie Upton unassisted.

In the second period the local Midgets exploded for seven more goals, at 1:07 and 7:02, and completed the hat trick at 10:08, again unassisted. Haliburton's sixth goal had come at 7:34, when Smith teamed up with Warburton and Rae.

Scott Mitchell's solo effort at 11:03 gave Haliburton an 8-1 lead, and they registered two more in the period, at 12:02, when Warburton scored from Kelly Mitchell and Scott Mitchell, and at 13:41, when Scott Mitchell scored from Kelly Mitchell and Steve Smith.

Haliburton's dominance continued unabated in the third period, when they surged to a 16-1 lead that was eventually reduced by two more Lindsay goals late in the period.

Scoring for Haliburton in the third period were Warburton from Scott Mitchell and Smith; Jamie Bennett

YOUR CHILDREN ARE IMPORTANT TO US.
THIS IS WHY WE SHARE YOUR CONCERN IN MAKING THEIR DAILY TRIPS WITH US SAFE ONES.

In keeping safety to the forefront we solicited the services of Blake Williams of Travelways last week who is a school bus safety administrator to present a safety presentation to the students at the Archie Stouffer Public School in Minden and the Victoria Street and Senior Elementary Schools at Haliburton.

We also sponsored a Driver Safety meeting last Tuesday evening at the Haliburton Highlands Secondary School for school bus drivers.

Redmen top Weldon in 'must win' game

hand, but Weldon was not about to be counted out.

From the kickoff, Weldon completed a 40 yard pass and marched to the Redmen's 10. A face mask infraction cost the Redmen half the distance to the goal line and gave Weldon a first and goal on the five. The Lindsay squad took full advantage of the opportunity, notching seven on a touchdown and a one point conversion.

But the Redmen managed to close the door on Weldon for the rest of the game, while Davies kicked two more single points to ensure the 19-10 victory.

Outstanding offensive players for Haliburton were quarterback Davies, backs Kevin Shapiera with 95 yards, Scott Arbuthnot with 80 yards, and Rob Metcalf at tackle.

Defensively, Scott Mitchell made a number of key tackles from his inside linebacker position, while Rich Choy, Steve Smith and Tim Davies were also effective against I.E. Weldon's attack.

Coach Gary Brohman noted that his team's "total composure on and off the field" was an important factor in the win.

Thursday, the teams will meet again to decide who will advance to the Kawartha District AA championship.

The game could prove a tough test for the Redmen if starting quarterback Tim Davies, who injured his elbow playing for the Huskies Friday night, is unable to lead the offense. He would be replaced by last year's starting quarterback Ron Yake, backed up by Kelly Mitchell.

Game time Thursday is 2 p.m.

Redmen stopped Weldon from advancing

Huskies have bad luck, injuries may be costly

The Haliburton Huskies were nursing wounded pride and wondering when the bad luck would end after a week-end that produced two losses and injuries to two players.

Friday, against Penetang, the Huskies couldn't match their scoring punch, losing 7-2. Saturday, before a home town crowd, the Huskies played a weak first period, rallied strongly to tie the game in the second, and were trailing by only a single goal in the third when a six man attack backfired, giving the visiting Oro 77's a 8-6 win.

The week-end produced set backs off the scoreboard as well. Roger Hicks, who had played solid offensive and defensive this season, will be out of the lineup for an indefinite period with a broken ankle suffered in Saturday's game. Tim Davies is also on the injured list with elbow problems sustained in Friday's game, but the injury may not keep him out of the lineup.

The Huskies stayed even with Penetang in the first period of Friday's match, aided by goaltender Craig Wood, who kicked out a dozen shots to keep the scoreboard blank, but in the second period, Penetang began to pull away, scoring three goals two of them on power plays, before the Huskies could answer with a goal by Shawn Chapman at 11:52. Assisting on the play were Gary Harrison and Ron Yake.

The gap soon widened however, as Penetang got two more to take a 5-1 lead. They made it 6-1 at 7:54 of the third period, but less than a minute later Gary Harrison found the mark for the Huskies, assisted by Yake and Chapman.

Penetang's final goal came at 15:03 while the Huskies had a man advantage.

Goaltender Craig Wood kicked out 35 shots in the game while Penetang's net-minder made only 24 stops.

Saturday, the visiting Oro 77's came out flying in the early going, scoring four goals in the opening period while the Huskies could manage only two, from Scott Arbuthnot and Gary Harrison.

Colin Newell, who has been effective between the pipes in several games this season, appeared shaky Saturday night, with two of Oro's four first period goals coming on long shots. But Newell was not helped by the weakness of the Huskies power play, which failed to connect on four, man advantage situations.

Oro got their fifth goal on a power play 44 seconds into the second period, and made it 6-2 at 5:06 while the teams were playing at full strength.

At that point coach Rick Wood opted to give Newell a rest in favour of Craig Wood.

Oro penalties at 5:54 and 6:17 brought out the Huskies power play, and the home team pulled all stops in an effort to get back in the game, scoring three goals in 52 seconds and regaining the momentum.

Connecting were Yake from Arbuthnot at 6:55, Roger Hicks from Chris Hodgson and at 7:21 Yake, and Yake from Hodgson and Hicks at 7:47.

A fourth goal, this one from Darrin MacInnes at 12:45 while both teams were back at full strength, tied the score and gave the Huskies a chance to move ahead for the first time. But Oro's goaltender came up with some excellent saves to keep the tie intact.

In the third period the Huskies came out skating and outshot the visitors early, but again Oro's goaltender came up with a number of key saves.

At 15:59, Oro went ahead 7-6. With less than a minute remaining the Huskies pulled Wood in favour of an extra attacker, but with 31 seconds left on the clock Oro put a shot into the empty net to take a two goal lead.

The week-end results gave the Huskies a three and five won/lost record for the season.

Sunday, the Huskies will be at home against Midland. Game time is 2:30 p.m.

OMHA peewees start season with 3 wins

The Haliburton OMHA Peewees are off to an excellent start in their first three games. The team, which has been named the 'Little Huskies', has come up with two wins and a tie in its first three games.

In Haliburton's opening game on October 13 the Peewees scored a convincing 6-3 win over Little Britain. Aaron Nicholls, showing some nifty moves around the net, notched four goals for Haliburton. Linemate Jaro Co-per assisted on all four of Nicholls' goals. Single markers came off the sticks of defencemen Jeff Pople and centre Darryl Goodall.

On October 20 the Little Huskies faced a tough squad from Woodville and came out with a hard fought 3-3 tie. In the first period Jeff Smith tallied for Haliburton with assists going to Jaro Cooper and Aaron Nicholls. Smith scored again in the second period deflecting a shot from the point by Jeff Emmerson. Going in to the third period Haliburton was down by one goal. The Little Huskies fought back to tie the score and the game at three when Colin Hunter drifted a shot home from the point. Assists went to Drew Mitchell and Darryl Goodall.

In their third game the Peewees travelled to Little Britain and faced a rejuvenated Little Britain squad. Only top-notch goaltending kept Haliburton in the game in the first two periods as goaltender Ronnie Perrin made a number of dazzling saves. Haliburton was able to score once when Drew Mitchell converted a fine three-way passing play from Darryl Goodall and Jeff Warburton. The Little Huskies then fought from behind in the third period. Early in the period Drew Mitchell picked up a loose puck at centre-ice. Moving in alone Mitchell made no mistake as he picked the corner to tie the game. With five minutes remaining Goodall took a pass from Nicholls and his hard low shot beat the Little Britain goalie to give Haliburton the lead. Perrin blanked Little Britain from that point and the Little Huskies emerged with a 3-2 victory.

The team, under coach Gary Brohman, has shown excellent determination and conditioning and promises to be competitive in 1981-82 campaign. Home games are on Tuesday night at 7:00 p.m.

Sting Rays re-gain first, Miss Fits drop to second

Wednesday afternoon mixed bowling league results of October 21 were:

Flo Henderson bowled 623 triple and led the Sting Rays back to first place in the first series with 26 points. The Miss Fits slipped back to second place with 25 points by losing three games and total pins to the Sky Sliders who are tied for third place with the Sky Larks with 23 points each. The Pelicans remain in fifth position with 16 points.

The Thunderbirds are in sixth place with 13 points. Ladies' high single to date: Frieda Handy, 280; Men's high single to date: Wilbert Gibbs, 288; Ladies' High triple to date: Frieda Handy, 705; Men's high triple to date: Dave Bell, 653; Ladies' high average to date: Flo Henderson, 196; Men's high average to date: Dave Bell, 217.

HHSS team advances to COSSA

Submitted

The girls' field hockey team from Haliburton Highlands Secondary School advanced to C.O.S.S.A. competition as a result of their second place finish at the Kawartha championships played in Peterborough on Tuesday, October 20.

The Kawartha championship was contested by a total of six schools -- Haliburton and the five Peterborough high schools. The six teams were divided into two pools for round-robin play. First opposition for the Haliburton squad was the team from Saint Peters. The local girls dominated play, but it was not until Shona Ross scored during the second half that the victory was assured. Next the Haliburton girls faced the very powerful team from Thomas A. Stewart. Last year this team advanced to the all Ontario Championships (OFSAA) as a result of their Kawartha and COSSA championships. Very quickly the Haliburton girls found themselves behind on the scoreboard, and although they earned a shut-out in the second half, the final score was 3-0 for T.A.S. However the local girls had advanced to the semi-finals where they faced Kenner Collegiate. Goals by Shona Ross and Shiela Harrison gave Haliburton a 2-0 victory and advanced them to the final game. Once again, T.A.S. was the opposition and the defending champions continued with their fine play and the game resulted in a 5-0 loss for Haliburton.

The top two teams in Kawartha advance to the COSSA competition which will be held on Tuesday, October 27 in Peterborough.

Happy Gang News By Watson Anderson

Choir practice Monday morning was a great success, encouraging and raising the hopes of the conductor Melissa Stevens and pianist Jan Shipley to the extent that they are not going to wait unduly long to take this Happy Gang Choir on tour. The first public appearance is to be as the United Church Choir of Haliburton, Rev. John James, pastor for their Armistice Memorial service, November 8.

The Tuesday morning bible study was led by June Devolin taking as her theme of study forgiveness, particularly exemplified by the story of "the woman caught in adultery" which in those days was regarded as the worst of sin. Jesus very aptly called on her accusers' guilt, because the accusers were as guilty as the accused. Jesus promptly forgave her after he demonstrated the logic of forgiveness. In modern times sin is not the stark offence it used to be, but rather too frequently it is caused by a misguided development of the sinner, a tragedy not a sin. Thus it is apparent that only our almighty God can 'forgive' sin. The word sin might better be dropped and replaced by the ethic of wisdom the 'urge toward excellence'.

Some time in this writing we get carried away off the track. Can we be forgiven?

In the evening we welcomed Nancy Picard, the facetious pianist, and Peggy Neville, a melodious vocal entertainer, both of whom were determined to entertain the Happy Gang. There was no doubt that all of us were waiting for just that. They are lovely ladies and full of gaiety that covered nearly all of the popular songs. Thanks ladies!

Wednesday morning a baking spree occurred to prepare for the coming Halloween party to be held Friday, October 30 to make batches of rice crispie squares and chocolate crackles. Participating bakers were Christina McCrae, Florence Burk, Vivia Bowen, Allan Macklin, Maude Weston, Luella Maugham, Nina Pussey, Lila Simmons and Hazel Parish. This exercise was supervised by Ivy Shaw and her voluntary helper Kathy Cary. We are in good hands.

For our noon meal we were transported along with the Haliburton area senior citizens not having their own car. Les Hughes took Norman Titus and Jack Pollard, Catherine Wilkinson took Hazel Parish and Florence Burk, Verna Wagg took Edgar Long (previously omitted), Ivy Shaw took Alice Hartle, Kay Walker, and Beryl Morrow, and last but not least Pat and Harry Woolley took Watson Anderson and John Sissons. Once again it was a lovely occasion presided over by Jack Bassett, a facetious lad. Jellied chicken pies were delicious with the mashed potatoes and string beans. Dessert was angel cake with whipped cream topping. There were the side items of apple juice, and a nice tossed salad and lots of superb coffee and tea. We got back in lots of time for carpet bowling and to collect some fallen autumn leaves from the properties of Cecil Robinson and Vance English, our generous neighbors, inadvertently making quite a spectacle of the chore.

This done we can put our shovel and other garden tools away until the spring. The muskmelon patch should greatly benefit from the considerable amount of leaves composted into the soil.

Meanwhile in the activity room 13 girls and two boys in the guidance of Ivy Shaw and her helper Kathy Cary baked a good supply of pumpkin cookies and four loaves of pumpkin nut bread all destined for the Halloween party. If you can beat it we are authorized to invite all of the little ones, gremlins, leprechauns, goblins, pixies, and fairies, - the good spirits to ring our door bell on Halloween. It is better to treat than be tricked.

The Rev. Rick Brewster of the Allsaw Pentecostal Church, Marjorie Rennick, pianist, and guest speaker Elsie McPhail, conducted our Friday morning devotional period the theme taken from Psalm 7, v. 13. Rev. Rick told of a lady swimmer who, in an attempt to swim from Catalina Island to the mainland, had to be taken from the water because she became blinded by the fog. Elsie McPhail related the death by highway accident of a Christian grandson, an accident that occurred in front of her home while she helplessly watched. Now we can feel that the Happy Gang is in God's good graces.

In the afternoon were 3 movies, 1. Miss Esta Maude's secret, and it should not be repeated. 2. Ottawa: Reflections of a Nation, Ottawa was simply strutting to gain more applause. 3. Granny lives in Galway, a film we have seen before and is well worth repeating of a 15 year old boy and his seven year old sister, both orphans, who ran away from a vicious stepfather. It was a grimly comic chase by which these determined children won their goal; Granny in Galway, Ireland.

We are reminded that we have received a very nice donation to the Wheel Chair Fund from Ethel L. Curry. Thank you. There is a little misunderstanding about the receipts we send these donors. They do not look official but they are good for income tax deductions, every cent.

Madeline Austin, of Haliburton, was recently honoured by St. George's Anglican Church for her long time association with the church's choir. Although she still tries to find time to play the piano every day, she retired from the choir approximately 10 years ago. At first estimating she had sang in the choir for 40 years, then she realized she was 80 this year and had begun singing in her teens. During her years with the choir, she saw gowns being purchased for the singers, choir stalls constructed and many ministers passed through the doors. Also during that time she would fill in when the organist was on vacation. "I've had a long association with the choir and old St. George's", she said.

Social Services News

by Susan Clements

I will be writing a column on social services in Haliburton County on a bi-monthly basis. Presently, I am Chairman of the Haliburton County Social Planning Council (H.C.S.P.C.) and the Advisory Board on Children's Services (H.C.L.A.B.).

My first article is to inform you about an all day workshop at Locarno Resort in Haliburton County on November 25, 1981, which is being sponsored by H.C.S.P.C., H.C.L.A.B., and the Tri-County Local Working Group.

The objectives of the workshop are to familiarize agencies with existing community resources in the county, and to introduce the concepts of voluntary coordination and joint planning.

In the past, many planning bodies such as social planning councils, district health councils, working groups on mental retardation, and children's services committees were formed. These planning bodies were largely responsible for facilitating the development of programmes related to social services. As the programmes developed and expanded, the need to encourage the coordination of services became evident. In addition, there is now a greater necessity to develop a capacity to respond to needs that cut across funding boundaries and involve more than one funding source. This is particularly important for sparsely populated rural communities, such as Haliburton County, which are unable to support a full complement of specialized services. At the November meeting, innovative approaches to address this situation will be examined.

Participants will include administrative, field and voluntary staff in the fields of health, education, social services and justice. Haliburton County based service providers, and those serving the county who are based in Peterborough, Lindsay and Bancroft will be included.

The workshop will be chaired by the Director of Education for Haliburton County, Doug Hodgson. The guest speaker, Bill Fraser, has had considerable experience in rural based services in British Columbia, and is presently the administrator of a provincial facility. Mr. Fraser will address the themes of voluntary coordination and development of rural services. The participants will be divided into groups to examine case examples, and a planner will be available to assist in the analysis and synthesis of the groups' findings.

Sunday night Rev. Brubacher held a lovely service in the Chapel. Mrs. Thompson played the organ and led the singing. Mrs. Thompson has a lovely voice and set the Chapel ringing.

Tuesday morning Rev. Miller took the service. He spoke on the harvest of the spirit. I was glad there was a nice lot out to hear it. Mrs. Taylor played the organ and Barbara Trasofitch led the singing. It's nice these ladies come to help, much pleasure they are bringing.

Monday morning it was fun and fitness in the auditorium. Monday night was movie night. We watched two interesting ones. Tuesday night was music night. We were entertained just fine, by the Watsons from Fenelon Falls and Smith from Lutterworth Pines. Smith was on the violin and Fred on the guitar. The piano was played by Fred's best girl. They put up music that's just out of this world.

It was nice to see Mr. and Mrs. Art Young dancing around the room. I'll bet they were great dancers when they were bride and groom.

Wednesday night was games night where we spend a social time.

Thursday afternoon the ladies of the L.O.B.A. unit from Haliburton brought over a lunch. It is so nice that these different groups of ladies take the time and trouble to bring us these lovely lunches. We really appreciate this.

Then after the lunch on Thursday afternoon, it was Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Shorter's 62nd wedding anniversary. They got some lovely cards and phone calls from relatives and friends. We wish them the best with all good things in store. We hope they will live to celebrate many more.

The lounge was all nicely decorated thanks to Doris and helpers. We had lovely cake and everything fine. A mock wedding was staged with a lot of fun. I will try and tell you how it all began. The acting parson was Irene Moore. She was a scream for sure. In fact, I think she wrote the script, so she just said: "Well, let her rip". The groom's part was played by Mrs. Jeanne Sears. She seemed to have trouble changing hears. The bride's father was played by Wayne Cox. He sure was a sly old fox. He said, "You will marry my daughter before this setting sun, or I will use my double barreled gun." The poor groom knew he was sure in a fix. He knew it was no use to play any tricks. He said "I will marry the girl, then in due course I will sue for a real quick divorce. So the bride was brought all tearful and shaken and it was none other than dear Joyce Bacon. The gown that she wore looked to me rather thin, and the groom's pants were held up by a big safety pin. So they were married by Parson Irene in the funniest ceremony that was ever seen. They surely were tied really tight. Trust Irene Moore to do everything right from the time it started until it was done, everyone thought it a real lot of fun.

Friday afternoon is singing time again when Mrs. Coburn, bless her heart, always comes to do her part. This week Fred Ballard came to play so it sure was quite a day.

We put our clocks back one hour tonight (Sat.) don't forget before putting out the light.

Now I guess I better go. How do you all like this nice white snow?

Until next week.

DISTRICT NEWS

Kinmount Korner

by Millie Moss

Winner of the Norland Firefighters' Hockey Pool, Saturday, October 17 was my gambling mother, Mary L. Pyke of Norland.

Bill, Lorrie and Jason Moss spent the week-end in Toronto to celebrate their anniversary only to come home to the bad news that Lorrie's uncle had suffered a stroke. I hope he'll be improving soon.

Everyone will be most welcome at the reopening of the euchre parties at Galway Hall, beginning November 4 at 7:30 p.m.

Visitors at the home of Herb and Olive Wilson in Kinmount recently were Mr. and Mrs. Bill Austin of Victoria, B.C. Bill who was a long time resident of our town and is now retired from the Air Force, along with his wife, visited many old friends and relatives, among them his sister Audrey and her husband Rev. Don Wunker of Miners Bay Lodge. The Wunkers were only able to have a few days visit as they had to return to their missionary duties September 10, in the Dominican Republic. The Austins left September 15, for home, after having a very enjoyable time and too, being very much enjoyed.

A sister-in-law, Mildred

Gulliver of Oshawa and a brother of Olive Wilson, Lloyd Cunningham, of St. Thomas, also visited with Herb and Olive Wilson, recently.

Don't forget the upcoming events in and around our area: November 18, at 7:30 p.m. in the Library Room at Kinmount Public Library, for one hour, Mrs. Christine Ducklow of Lindsay, who is the Home Economist for Victoria County will give a talk on the current fashions illustrated by slides. Refreshments will be served and there is no charge.

St. James Hall, annual bazaar, in Kinmount, will be held Saturday, November 28 from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m. There will be baked goods, country store, gift and white elephant tables. The $1 admission charge includes a lunch and or afternoon tea along with very friendly people. You could pick up some very nice gifts towards your Xmas giving. See you there.

Wednesday, December 2 at 7:30 p.m., in the Library at Kinmount Public School on Hwy. 503, Mrs. Pat Campbell of Campbell's Garden Centre in Minden will teach you how to make a beautiful Xmas wreath, garland etc., if you bring along some branches, boughs, corn husks, pine cones, whatever. Pat will be bringing along some items to make up as well. There is no admittance charge but items Pat will supply, such as fine wire, etc., there, of course will be a minimal cost. Once you've made these wreaths or whatever your personal choice, they can be used year after year. All these events should be interesting and its very nice to be involved in something. Speaking of becoming involved, this lady, along with Helen Graham, Ruth Janke and Linda Janke, all of Norland, attended, for her first time, a ceramics class, last Tuesday night. Christina Kerr, of Cobocok, would like to see lots of you come out to her classes. We pick out the item we'd like to start with, chip away all the rough edges, buff it, brush it down, look for a little praise, put the first coat of paint on it and after Chris makes you a cup of tea, you look for more praise on your paint job and after a pat on the head you start for home looking eagerly towards next Tuesday evening. A large sheet of heavy plywood laid across the table and a folded towel at each seating along with bowls in the centre which contain brushes and the necessary small tools is our "work bench". There are shelves around the room on which sit all manner of clay beginnings which someone will treasure for years to come when they see the finished product. Chris has some beautiful pieces she has done herself, which she'd be pleased to show you and you pay nothing 'til you finish your own piece and take it home. I think big so I started right off with the old fashioned jug and bowl set and I truly enjoyed my evening. If you're interested, give Chris a call at 454-3386 for further information or give me a call at 488-2399. Really folks, it's fun.

I am sorry to report that Mary O'Toole was still in Peterborough Civic as of this past week and Vivien Anderson in bed last Wednesday with a flu bug. I hope both of you are much better soon.

Jason Moss of Norland enjoyed his birthday on Monday October 19, after he got home from school. His great nanna, gramma, grampa, Aunt Helen, Uncle Alex, Uncle Jack, Lori Lynn Liscombe, mom and dad were all there. He had a cake at school, his mom made a beautiful cake and so did gramma.

Results of St. James euchre party, Tuesday, October 20 - ladies' high: Gladys Anderson, ladies' low: Verlie Young, men's high: Shirley Harris and most lone hands: Ann Cain. There were seven tables playing plus Win Wilson.

Freda Brown of Lindsay, a summer resident of Kinmount was the winner of the 50/50 draw at the Kinmount Legion Saturday, October 17.

Happy birthday to Darrel (Sonny) Berry on Thursday, October 22.

The parade falls in on November 15, at 10:45 a.m., when Remembrance Day is once again honored at the Royal Canadian Legion #519 Cenotaph in Cobocok at 11 a.m. Following the dedication and unveiling of the Legion Park in Cobocok a lunch will be served in the Legion Hall. "Love is staying up all night with a sick child -- or a healthy adult."

We are still waiting for that two weeks of Indian summer which is supposed to follow Squaw winter. I'm sure that is what we have just gone through with the intermittent snow and freezing temperatures. I guess most of us have had our cars winterized, snow tires on, etc. and are ready for whatever comes, but, oh, how we would revel in an interim of sunny, bright weather before old man winter sets in with his snow storms, cold winds and below zero temperatures. Well, we're wishing, anyway.

I hope everyone remembered to turn their clocks back on the week-end. It seemed unusual coming almost a week ahead of the end of the month and we are wondering that with all the talk of energy conservation if it might have been better to leave things the way they were, as the evenings will be longer so lights will be on longer.

However, I think a lot of people like the idea of not having to get up in the dark and also enjoyed that extra hour of sleep on Sunday morning.

Get well wishes to Arnold McEachern, a patient in Wellesly Hospital, Toronto.

Saturday is ghosts and goblins night and the little ones will be around to show off their fancy and comical costumes and gather their treats. The annual children's party put on by the Dorset Lion's Club will be held on Saturday night at the Dorset Public School at 7 p.m.

On October 31 the Dorset Snowmobile Club is sponsoring a dance at the Dorset Community Centre, beginning at 9 p.m. The music will be by Sound 101 of Barrie and tickets will be available at the door.

The Dorset Community Club sold tickets this past summer on a boat, motor and trailer, the proceeds being for the building fund for the erection of a new Community Centre. The raffle draw was held on October 12. The lucky ticket was drawn by a little girl from Cambridge, Anna Potvin, and the lucky winner was R. Cassidy of Simcoe, Ont. who also has a cottage on Minden Bay, Kawagama Lake. The club would like to thank all those who purchased tickets to swell their funds and the hard work and diligent effort of the ticket sellers is to be commended.

On October 10 the wedding took place of Rev. Murray Bradford and Lorna Purcell at St. John's Anglican Church, Fox Point. The service was followed by a reception and dance at the Dorset Community Centre.

Would you like to go to Barrie by bus on a shopping trip for $7 return? On Monday, November 9 there is one being planned by the Dorset Senior Club and anyone is welcome to take the trip, regardless of age. If you wish more information please call Marg Walkden at 766-2703 and she would like to have confirmation by Saturday, October 31 and to have your fare in by that time.

On Tuesday, November 3 the foot clinic will be held at the school. This time the nurses will have equipment to test hearing. So if you are interested please call 766-2237 for an appointment between 9:30 and 12 noon.

Don't forget the Anglican ladies rummage sale on Thursday evening at 7 p.m.

H.H. For an inexpensive ice pack wash out an empty plastic detergent bottle and fill with water, leaving room for expansion. Stand upright in freezer and when frozen push down the top to make leak proof.

Chatting with Irene

by Irene Moore

There was a joker in the pack last week regarding the weather. When one wakes up several mornings in a row to find snow on the ground, one digs for winter boots for walking; then a few days later it is so mild that one would think spring was coming. Everything is so mixed up that two bears got lost and wandered out onto the lawn of a home near the golf course. That is getting a little too close for comfort when they get that urge. Maybe we will see them wandering down main street one day!

Birthdays at Hyland Crest Home for the month of November are: Edith Allcorn - 8th; Gladys Dennis - 10th; Olive Tyler - 14th and Jessie Walter - 21st.

Mr. and Mrs. R.J. Hughes also Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Cox and daughter visited with the Blake Hughes family in Mississauga on the week-end.

The winner of the Women's Institute draw on crocheted afghan and cushion was Gaye Lytle of Mississauga with number 407.

Mrs. Lorne McCallum of Lindsay spent several days with her aunt Mrs. Ethel Harrison.

The St. Paul's Thrift Shop will be open this Friday, October 30, upstairs at the Parish Hall from 1:30 p.m. until 3 p.m.

The Haliburton County senior citizens group are holding a luncheon bazaar and bake sale on Saturday, Nov. 7 from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m., upstairs at the Haliburton arena. Draws will be made for a quilt and wall hanging.

Congratulations to Mr. Joe Dollo who was recently honoured by the I.G.A. organization with a beautiful plaque for his 25 years service with their store here in Minden.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Dudman of Markham spent the week-end with Mrs. Shirley Hewitt.

The Minden United Church U.C.W. will be holding their November 4 meeting in the church hall starting at 7:30 p.m. There will be a special speaker and final arrangements will be made for their Christmas luncheon and bazaar on November 20.

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Dawkins and Beverley of Rexdale spent the week-end at the cottage on Hawk Lake Road.

Last Thursday afternoon Mr. and Mrs. Herb Shorter were honoured by the staff of Hyland Crest Home and others on their 62nd wedding anniversary. There was a mock wedding ceremony after which Bill Payne sang several numbers, then Bert Harrison read a poem he had composed. Ladies from Haliburton provided the lunch after which pieces of anniversary cake were passed around.

Winners at the mini card party last Thursday afternoon were for Euchre - lone hand on a cut - Johann Beattie; Shirley Elcome; Ada Turrell. Cribbage - Ruth Kellet and Gordon Kellet.

The Minden and District Horticultural Society will be meeting in the common room of the culture centre at 7:30 p.m., Tuesday, November 3. Mr. Len Shea of Lindsay will be guest speaker.

It seems we may have Christmas stamps after all.

On November 16 the three Christmas stamps, 15 cents, 17 cents and 35 cents will be issued. Then on November 24 the four aircraft stamps (2 x 17 cent and 2 x 35 cents) will be issued. No reason was given for the delays but all have a good idea it was the change over to a Crown Corporation.

I'm sure that during the next two weeks we will find many familiar faces missing or wearing red hats. A number

LOOK FOR THE CGSB SYMBOL BEFORE YOU HIRE AN INSULATION CONTRACTOR

The vast majority of insulation firms are both capable and honest. But there have been cases of poor workmanship and even outright fraud.

To help ensure good value for your insulation dollar, the Canadian General Standards Board has established a national certification program for residential insulation contractors. The contractors listed in the CGSB program certify to their clients that their quality of insulation workmanship meets the CGSB standard.

Only those contractors listed in the CGSB certification program are authorized to use the CGSB symbol.

USING A CONTRACTOR FOR CHIP? CGSB IS A MUST.

CHIP (the Canadian Home Insulation Program) offers taxable grants of up to $500 to make your home better insulated and more airtight - if your house was built before January 1, 1961 - whether you own or rent.

After November 1, 1981, if you intend to apply for CHIP and have a contractor install the materials, you must use a contractor who is listed with the CGSB program. You won't be eligible for a grant otherwise.

If you prefer to do it yourself and use CHIP only to assist with buying materials, that's fine. But remember, you must install the materials before applying for a CHIP grant.

CHOOSE YOUR CONTRACTOR CAREFULLY

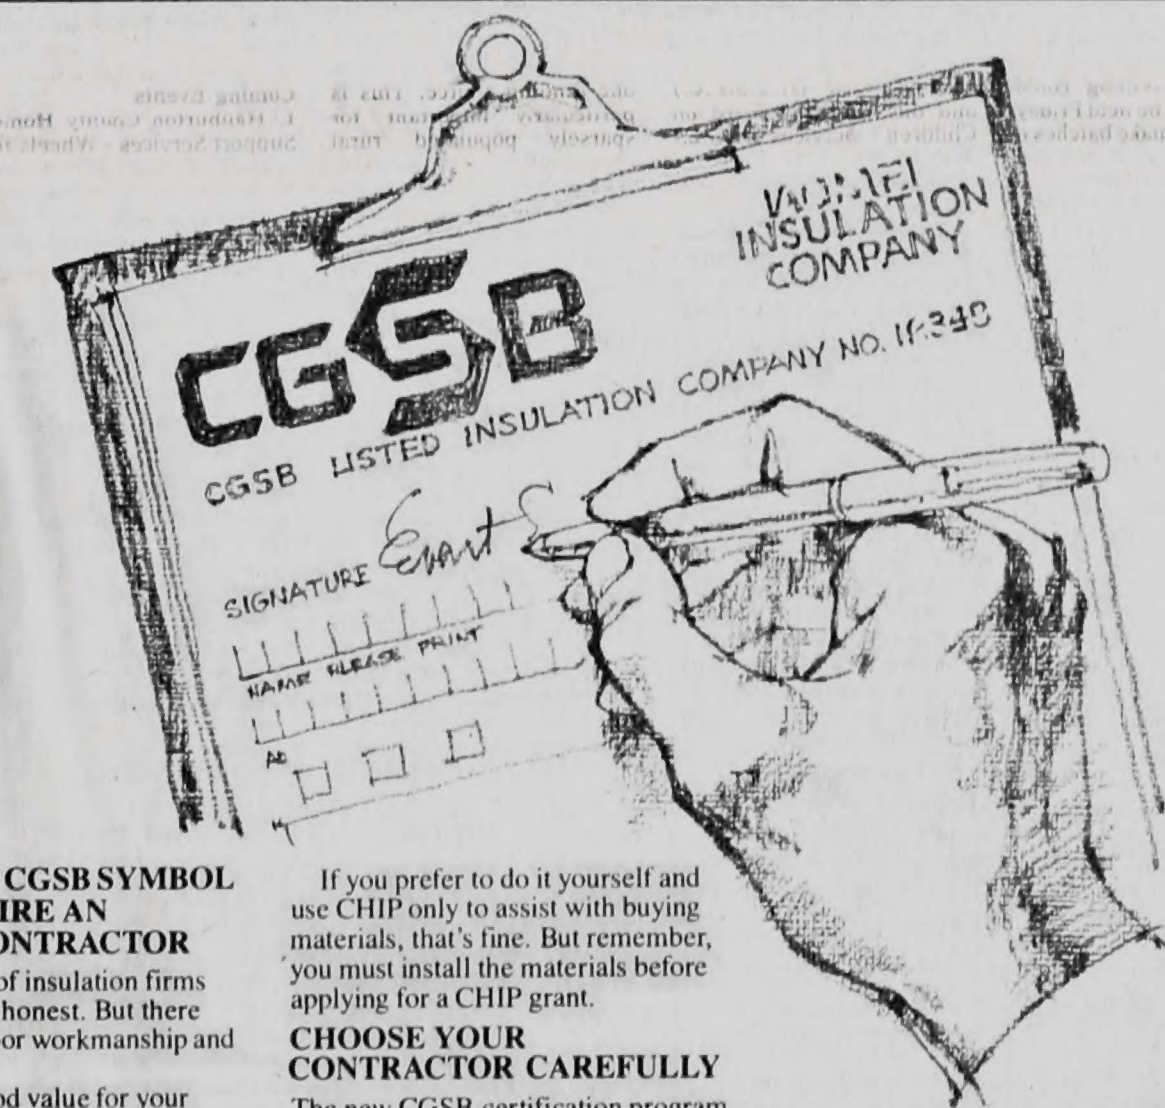

The new CGSB certification program will do much to reduce the problem of poor quality work by insulation contractors, but don't stop there. You should further protect yourself in these ways:

1. Plan your home's energy savings by filling in the free EnerSave 'Energy Analysis' questionnaire. Call the EnerSave Helpline toll-free for your copy. Call toll free 1-800-267-9563. Ontario/Hall residents call 995-1801.
2. Ask friends or neighbours to recommend a contractor.
3. Verify the contractor's CGSB listing number with your CHIP office. Check the company's record with the Better Business Bureau or your provincial Consumer Affairs office.
4. Watch out for high-pressure sales techniques.
5. Compare costs. Get three estimates in writing which locate and specify the size of the area to be insulated, give the type of materials to be used and list their RSI (or R) value. (RSI is the new metric rating for insulation).

6. Check your contractor for details such as CGSB listing number, the estimate of your home's existing RSI (or R) value, the RSI (or R) value of insulation to be added, and the recommended RSI (or R) value for your area.
7. Monitor the job. If possible, stay home while the work is being done. Don't be shy about asking the contractor questions.
8. Never sign a blank or partly filled-in contract or CHIP application form.

It takes planning and comparison shopping to find good value for your insulation dollar. But it's in your best interest to do it right from the start. Get in touch with your CHIP office in Toronto to find out whether your home is eligible and how to apply.

Gooderham News

by Mary Hadley

Condolences from our community are extended to Mrs. Dorothy Graham, whose mother, Mrs. Norman Harrison, passed away last week. Funeral services were held in Mount Albert.

Mr. Roy Hadley of Peterborough and Mr. Gordon Robertson of Lindsay called on several relatives and friends last Saturday. Roy seemed quite well following minor surgery, recently.

When the children call "Trick or Treat" on Saturday they will also be carrying their "Unicef" boxes. They hope you will have some coins in readiness to help this worthy endeavour to help other children of "hunger and fear".

Have you noticed the thermometer outside the Municipal Office lately? The red paint has risen to well past the $40,000 mark on its way to the objective. Congratulations, donors! It is not much over a month since the Centre was officially opened and the private sector funding has almost reached the goal. If you have not yet made your donations, your contribution now, would help to hasten attaining the goal.

Mrs. Ruby Maxwell has returned to her home after a very enjoyable flight to Alberta to visit her son, George, and his family at Sherwood Park Village, near Edmonton. She was accompanied by her daughter, Berdie McGahey and granddaughter, Cindy. While there, her son, Garnet, visited her and other family members.

Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Hunter, Mrs. Ross Agnew, Dorothy Robertson and I attended the Home Support Services Workshop at the beautiful new Senior Citizens' Centre in Oshawa last Saturday. The sessions were informative, challenging and enjoyable.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard

Parker, of Grenville, Saskatchewan spent a week visiting cousins in Ontario. Some of these were: Vivian and Tommy Dovell, Susie Madill, and Eva and Hubert Alsop.

Mr. and Mrs. Larry Hunter have returned after a two weeks' holiday at Myrtle Beach and also attending the Kenneth Copeland Convention at Charlotte, N.C.

Mr. Bertil Carlson of Sweden was a visitor at the meeting of the Sr. Citizens' Club last Wednesday. He described his native land, comparing it to Canada in regards to size, climate, industries, cost of commodities today, etc. Gasoline costs almost twice as much as here. He is staying in Barr's cottage on Pine Lake and is interested in examining the rocks in this area.

After a lengthy illness, Mr. Leon Milburn passed away in Lindsay Hospital last Thursday. He is survived by his wife, Myrtle. Funeral services were held Saturday from the Barr Funeral Home with Rev. Sauve officiating. Interment followed in Gooderham cemetery. Leon was a hard-working honest upright citizen. His many friends cherish his memory.

ber of the men are away north now hunting moose and of course next week is deer hunting. Why is it the men have all the fun of getting away with the boys, while the women keep the home fires burning?

Maybe the women get as much pleasure out of these two or three weeks as the men do for all is peace and quiet on the home front, I hope!

On last Wednesday afternoon, October 21, 20 ladies gathered at the common room for the regular Women's Institute meeting. The president, Mrs. Clare Brown called the meeting to order and welcome the visitors. The card convener reported sending 25 cards in the month past and collections were taken for the card fund and pennies for friendship. Plans were completed for the Victoria East District Tea and Bake sale at Fenelon Falls United Church on October 28.

There was an air of mystery regarding the next item of business as one of the life members came to the front to present Mrs. Milton Sears with a life membership pin and certificate for her work since she joined the W.I. one 30 years ago.

Mrs. Sears had been secretary of the Minden Branch for five years, branch president for three years, district director for many years and district president for two years and now represents the District of Victoria East at the area convention in Toronto in November. So she well deserved the honour bestowed upon her. Mrs. Sears spoke a word of thanks for the honour.

The W.I. made their plans for serving afternoon tea at Hyland Crest Home November 5. The members noted to send a letter of protest regarding the raising of postage for get well, sympathy and birthday cards to the minister responsible, rate representation, Canada Post Corporation, Ottawa, Ontario K1A 0B1 and expressed the hope many more organizations and people would do the same.

Yvonne Beaucage gave a very interesting talk on the history of the Women's Institute which helped with McDonald Institute in Guelph. The aims and projects of the W.I. have spread from Ontario around the world. She also mentioned if anyone was interested in reading the W.I. history there is a book available at the Minden Library.

A beautiful handcrafted Indian doll was presented to the W.I. by Yvonne Beaucage and it was decided to raffle tickets on it with the draw to be made at the May 19 meeting, 1982.

After the closing of the meeting lunch was served by the committee. During this time the draw was made for the Afghan and cushion and won by Gayle Lytle of Mississauga who held number 407.

The November meeting will be held in the common room on November 18 at 2 p.m. Speaker, citizenship and world affairs, Mrs. Jim Grant. All ladies are welcome.

Just remember that there will be a lot of witches, goblins etc. roaming around town this Saturday, October 31 and do be on the look out for them and drive carefully.

Wilberforce News

by Winnie Schofield

The church of St. Margaret's was decked with flowers on Saturday, October 24 for the wedding of Jimmy Alden and Ann Plumley. The church was filled with relatives and friends. The bride arrived in lovely gown and veil and she was accompanied by her maid of honour, Vicky Lemon, who was dressed in yellow and two bridesmaids wearing blue. The wedding ceremony was conducted by Canon Moore Smith. Mrs. Sylvia Cameron played the organ.

After the wedding a reception was held at Harcourt Hall followed by a dance with many friends and well wishers attending. Best wishes to Mr. and Mrs. James Alden for happy days ahead.

The Sunday morning service at St. Margaret's Anglican Church has been fixed at 10:30 a.m. This will avoid confusion caused by changing for daylight saving time. Sunday school is also held at this time and all children are welcome to attend.

One more rummage sale takes place this coming Saturday. There will be other articles added for this event. Many people have taken advantage of this wonderful opportunity to obtain good used clothing. Not all are looking for something to wear. Some are seeking suitable pieces of material for quilt blocks or rugs. Figure skating costumes could be fashioned from bright materials or a handsome Halloween outfit is available for a few pennies.

The principal of Wilberforce public school recently brought his class to the museum to give them a look into the past. They were greatly intrigued with the displays and their many questions marked a developing intelligence that is so refreshing in children of this age.

With present day alarming rise in unemployment we are thankful for our bustling Wilberforce Veneer plant which supplies so many man (woman) hours of work to this community. We tend to forget another source of jobs in the area. The Wilberforce Planing mill at this time employs nine people. This is the family business of Klappow family. Good cooperation has resulted in a growing industry that is very important at this time.

Friday night is when the Halloween party takes place at the Library. Welcome is extended to all witches, skeletons and other costume clad young people. Games and prizes to be had during this evening of ghostly fun.

Don't forget the Senior Citizen's Bazaar this coming Saturday when all kinds of interesting things will be presented for your enjoyment. Doors open at 1 p.m. at the Memorial Centre.

With all the snow on trees and shrubs was really a Christmas scene. It makes one think it is time to start shopping. I wonder how many know that only a few miles from here, there is a boutique that has a great variety of gifts to choose from. There are lovely ceramics, fluffy crib quilts, afghans, Christmas door hangings and what have you. You will find all this in a room adjoining the home of Mrs. David Johnson of Boshkung. Darlene is a very busy and talented person.

Mrs. Mary Packard visited her homeland, Scotland, this year.

Mrs. Simonne Harrison is spending a couple of weeks with her sister in Stratford. Mrs. Ruth McBrien attended a conference in Burlington last week in connection with helping the disabled of other lands.

Miss Lois McBrien and Mr. Paul Cummings were married last summer and are both attending university in Sudbury.

Sympathy is extended to Mary Bell of Hair Care on the death of her grandmother. Our eldest son and his wife dropped in unexpectedly on Saturday, had lunch and were on their way. Garth said he hoped they stayed long enough to get their name in the paper. Dwayne Windsor also surprised us and will stay and fly back to Kamloops, B.C. on Monday.

I have been re-reading "In Quest of Yesterday" and have just come to some of the Haliburton happenings and several names we recognize that were familiar to us the few years we spent there? I remember a Play we took part in, that was quite a success. After we went to the Peace River Country we received an invitation that the participants in the Play were planning. The invitation stated that conveyance would be provided. We sent a telegram "Accept, with thanks, awaiting conveyance."

surrounding areas will be in attendance and it should prove to be quite a day. Please plan to attend.

Wasn't that some storm last Thursday? That white stuff sure didn't look as though it belonged in Indian Summer! Our P.O. had a "guardian" out last Friday morning, in the form of the first snowman we've seen this season.

Young Phoebe and her big brothers, Claude and Malcolm Crego were the builders.

Sincere sympathy to Ken and Ida Young and all family and friends on the death this past week, of Ken's mother, Doug Munro of Kinmount lost control of his car, due to the slushy conditions on October 21, at the Union Creek Bridge and although there was extensive damage to the car, Doug was luckily unhurt.

Not so though, in the accident involving two cars on Hwy. 7B, also on October 21, when one driver, Jim Hickey was unhurt but Emily Graham of Lindsay was taken to Ross Memorial Hospital with very serious injuries. She has since been transferred to hospital in Peterborough. Emily is a sister-in-law to Lila Shaw and mother to Helen Byne of Kinmount.

Grace Leake and Marion Hancock, have been guests of Vi and Al Crego at their home in Kinmount for a week and on Friday evening the husbands, Russell and John arrived for the week-end from their homes in Ganonoque.

A very happy birthday to Grace Leake on Friday, October 23.

All you sick people get well, all you well people stay that way and remember "wrinkles should merely indicate where the smiles have been."

Snowdon Supporters

At a meeting October 5, it was a pleasure to have the London Life insurance representative, Bob MacDonald, with us. Bob explained the pros and cons of the London Life Group Insurance plan with regard to independent businessmen carrying the coverage. It would appear, should enough members be interested that coverage could be obtained through Snowdon Supporters at a group rate.

This meeting was the group's first anniversary, and it was celebrated after the meeting with coffee and cookies.

At the next meeting, November 9, it would be in order to renew memberships, and discuss objectives for the coming year. It is also the time to decide what is to be done with the excess bank funds.

The meeting will get underway at 7:30 p.m. at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Al Hartwick, at the intersection of Hwy. 519 and the East Line Rd. in Geleit, first driveway on the right after you turn onto East Line Rd.

Trustee role change proposed

and would lead to greater accountability," it noted. "However, this would be difficult for school boards with a low level of assessment."

Following release of the paper, committee chairman David Ferguson, a Ministry of Education official, was asked whether the proposed pay system would be inflationary, increasing municipal taxes, particularly in smaller communities.

"The main purpose of the proposed pay arrangement is to have decisions about trustee salaries made at the local level," he said. "It would only be as inflationary as local ratepayers wish it to be, in terms of provincial grants, the inflationary effect would be negligible."

Ferguson, director of the Ministry's Policy Analysis and Legislation Branch, noted, however, that some upward adjustment in trustee salaries is reasonable since the amounts have not changed since 1974, in spite of inflation.

The committee supported existing legislation which prohibits school board employees, including teachers, from running for trustee of the board by which they are employed. The committee favoured the position that school board employees should continue to be allowed to run for a board other than that by which they are employed, but went on to recommend only if such employees obtain leave-of-absence without pay to run, and remain on leave while a trustee.

As the legislation stands now, a school board employee may continue employment with a school board while sitting as a trustee on another board. If the committee's recommendations are implemented, about 150 teachers who now serve as trustees across the province would be affected. They would still be allowed to run but could not teach while serving as trustee.

In support of its recommendation, the committee noted that present regulations require municipal employees and provincial servants to take leave-of-absence without pay to be candidates for municipal or provincial election and office.

The committee also supported the provisions of the Municipal Conflict of Interest Act concerning potential conflict of interest involving family members. Those provisions require that trustees disclose interest related to family members, and abstain from the board's deliberations on relevant matters, such as teacher's salaries.

Under the committee's proposal, spouses of board employees would continue to be allowed to run for school trustee, provided that provisions governing potential conflict are observed.

Victoria County Community Pasture Roundup

Many farmers are thinking about bringing their cattle home from pasture at this time of year.

Grass is normally getting scarce by late October.

On Monday, October 19, the Early Roundup was held at the Victoria County Community Pasture. These steers were consigned to one of the local feeder sales.

If these cattle are any indication, pasture was excellent this year. One ranch made up of 110 steers gained an average of 341 lbs. while on pasture. This was an average of 2.1 pound gain per day. Highest gains were a group of 11 Hereford steers. They gained an average of 391 lbs.

Steers on a second ranch gained an average of 297 lbs. per day. Compared to last year's gain of 192 lbs. per steer this is a 100 lb. increase per animal on the same ranch.

This improvement in pasture gains is the result of good pasture conditions and good management.

With the last year's poor results, the Pasture Committee set up a fertilizer program. Urea was applied in early spring. This contributed to much improved gains.

If the owner wishes, all cattle coming off pasture are treated for warbles and lice.

Roundup at the Victoria County Community Pasture will continue this week. Cattle will be coming off Monday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday. Gains on these ranches hopefully will be as good as the early roundup.

When cattle are left on pasture until mid or late November gains are normally greatly reduced. By this time, pasture has little feed value.

This is one reason the Victoria County Community Pasture Committee has all cattle coming off in October.

Cream Producers Meet

Garry Lean, R.R. 2, Cameron, is the new chairman of the Victoria County Cream Producers' Association. He was elected to succeed Allan Wright of Omemee at the Association's Annual Meeting last week.

Bruce Mollon of R.R. 1, Woodville, is vice-chairman and Brian Starr of Cambray continues as secretary-treasurer.

Directors for the coming year are Harvey Bowen, John Brice, Alton Clark, Vince Heffernan, Peter MacEachern, Graydon Mann, Stan Packer, Frank Peckoski, Burton Upton and Allan Wright.

There are over 75 cream producers in Victoria County. As well, cream producers from Peterborough and part of old Durham Counties are included in the Victoria County Association.

Provincial truck safety inquiry launched

The Ontario government has launched an independent inquiry into truck safety in the province, Ontario Transportation and Communication Minister James Snow said.

"Large trucks represent a perceived threat to many motorists," the Minister said. "And there's no credible, independent source of information available to assess the true situation in this area."

Snow said the Ontario Commission on Truck Safety, headed by Dr. Robert J. Ufflen of Queen's University, will undertake a thorough examination of the issue to determine the current status of truck safety in the province.

The one-man commission, scheduled to complete its report late next year, will review and make recommendations on truck driver training and standards, classified driver licensing, medical standards and restrictions.

It will also review the rules of the road as they apply to truck operations, with special consideration for such things as following distances, speed limits, land and truck movement restrictions, and enforcement.

The commission has also been asked to investigate and report on vehicle standards and specifications, including vehicle length and configuration, brake standards, fuel, load security, and truck inspection and maintenance practices.

Snow said Ufflen will be assisted in his work by a small, informal, advisory committee, consisting of knowledgeable people representing various interest groups, including the motorist, the police and the trucking industry.

The public is also invited to participate by attending public hearings, seminars and other meetings, as well as submit briefs to the commission on truck safety matters. For further information, contact: The Ontario Truck Safety Commission, P.O. Box 5001, Downsview, Ontario M3M 1J8. Telephone: Toronto (416) 248-3704, Kingston (613) 547-5866.

Open meeting on by-law held and recommendations for control policies. He said the association "recommends that this zoning by-law not be proceeded with" until the study is published and people have a chance to examine it to see how it applies to the municipality.

A second matter of concern to the association is lot sizes. McCorriston told the meeting, attended by reeve Lloyd Walker, and councillors Ed Pergolas and Lyle McKnight as well as the Proctor and Redfern consultant.

The new by-law proposed a minimum lot size of 120 feet, but the association believes 150 feet frontage and a half acre area should be the minimum. McCorriston said a change from the 100 feet in the old by-law to 120 feet in the new by-law would have little effect on density, while a 150 foot minimum would reduce lakeshore development density appreciably.

The Söyer's Lake president also told the meeting that the long awaited lakeshore capacity study by the Ministry of the Environment is due to be released before the end of March, 1981, and that the by-law "should be deferred until the final report is published." He said it would be "premature" to arbitrarily establish lot sizes in the by-law "until the results of the five year study are available."

Pressed to respond to the suggestion, reeve Lloyd Walker replied that "it makes good common sense, and as far as I'm concerned, we'll look into it."

Councillors Pergolas and McKnight were also asked to respond but both said they needed more information before they would make a commitment.

The rest of the meeting was taken up with questions about the hazard land designation which is being requested by the Ministry of Natural Resources.

Those who attended were asked to state their positions in writing and to forward them to the clerk of the municipality. They were also assured that more meetings would be held to receive input on the by-law before it is passed.

Irondale road worst in county, county asked to assume

The Irondale Road will not be assumed into the county road system despite a request that the move be considered.

Speaking at a meeting of county council last Wednesday, Snowdon, deputy reeve John Francis said his municipality has tried repeatedly, but without success, to have the road designated for development. The designation would bring extra subsidy from the Ministry of Transportation and Communications that Snowdon could use to upgrade the road, current-

Wood heat safety presentation will explain safety, efficiency

Are you planning on saving a little money this winter by switching to a new wood burning appliance? Or have you been burning wood for a few years and wonder if your set-up is as safe as it should be. A visit to the wood heat safety presentation will answer all your questions.

The presentation, sponsored by the Stanhope Fire Department in conjunction with Fire Prevention Week, will get underway at 7 p.m., Thursday, at the Stanhope Community Hall.

The two-hour show will include a demonstration on how to burn wood efficiently and safely.

Wayne Sutherland, from the Kingston Township Fire

Department will be the guest speaker for the evening.

Through the presentation and question and answer period, Stanhope fire chief George Wilson said he hopes to educate the public on the Minutes of the Galway Cavendish Culture and Recreation Committee meeting of September 15, 1981 was adopted as presented.

Minutes of the Galway Cavendish Volunteer Fire Department (Galway platoon) meeting of September 20, 1981 was accepted as presented.

If a fire fighter is required to miss a day at work due to fighting a fire, he will be compensated at his normal rate of pay at his regular job, and claims for compensation of this nature will be monitored and submitted by the Fire Chief, council decided.

Council adjourned and went into "Committee of the Whole" to discuss matters relating to Committees established by Council.

Committee of the Whole adjourned and went into open council.

By-law 81-33, a by-law to regulate the use of land and the character location and use of buildings and structures in the United Townships of Galway and Cavendish, was passed.

This by-law is to rezone Concession A, lot 18, Galway from rural to recreation residential.

By-law 81-34, a by-law to regulate the use of land and the character location and use of buildings and structures in the United Townships of Galway and Cavendish was passed.

This by-law is to strengthen the Township's position on pits and quarries in the Township and gives a more clearly defined definition of what a pit and quarry is.

The Reeve and Clerk were authorized to sign the required documents to support an application to the Liquor Licence Board of Ontario to have the Fire Hall #2 facilities approved for "Special occasion permits".

The reeve was authorized to institute the required action for a response to the Insulte Mining Company to appeal to the Ontario Municipal Boards decision of September 29, 1981 to "Cabinet" requesting that the decision of the Board be set aside.

The resolution from the Township of Minto regarding low interest rates for farmers and small businessmen was tabled.

Council of the United Townships of Galway and Cavendish certified that restricted area by-law 80-14, passed by council on the 10th day of May 1980, is in conformity with the official plan of the North Kawartha Planning Area as approved and which was in force as of the date of passage of said by-law 80-14.

Queen's Park Report

age. More than 250,000 of Ontario's five million licensed drivers are over 65, and the Minister has said that it is "unfair and arbitrary" for some firms to charge more and request medical certificates from elderly drivers in good health. Effective immediately, no insurance firm can refuse to renew a policy or to sell a new one solely on the basis of the driver's age.

Rent Review

The Commercial Relations Minister has also stated that the government is not planning to abolish rent review "now, next year, or in the immediate future...Some form of rent review will remain...until there is a substantial increase in available apartment units in those communities which are experiencing critical shortages." He expressed the view that a premature end to Ontario's rent review program could precipitate sharp and sudden rent increases, causing severe financial difficulties for many tenants.

Human Rights

According to the Minister of Labour, the Conservatives have reached a consensus over legislation to create a new Human Rights Code. He said he has removed one of the most controversial proposals, which provided that someone who refused to produce documents for a human rights investigator could face criminal charge of obstruction, and intends to follow through on a commitment to change the provisions of the bill so that investigators will be able only to request rather than require that documents be produced. Hopefully, he said, the bill will pass third reading by the end of the session in December.

Premier's Australian Tour

Supposedly the Premier's recent Australian tour netted about $100 million in business. Quoting from a Canadian Press story in which spokesmen for the three companies reputed to have netted the biggest contracts said that the deals were old news, former Liberal Leader Robert Nixon challenged the Industry Minister on the $100 million figure. He accused the Minister of having manufactured the figure in order to make the Australian tour look like something useful. The Minister eventually conceded that the figure did indeed include contracts which had already been signed before the mission began.

passed by council on the 26th day of September 1981 is in conformity with the official plan of the North Kawartha Planning Area as approved and which was in force as of the date of passage of said by-law 81-33.

The County of Peterborough was requested to assume the Gold/Beaver Lake Bridge situated on lot 28, concession 3 Cavendish into the County Bridge System thereby assuming responsibility for all future operating and maintenance cost.

The application to Natural Resources by a Mr. Quinn for dredging on lot 7, concession 17, Cavendish was hereby supported subject to the following conditions: - no alterations are to be made to the seasonally flooded lands lying to the west of the work areas outlined in blue and yellow on the attached plan, in particular existing logs and stumps are not to be removed, - all dredging must be completed prior to September 30, 1981.

- the Ministry of Natural Resources must be contacted when the dredging commences as it will be necessary that our staff attend the site during the operation.

The application to Natural Resources by Mr. Dudman for construction of a road over crown land on lot 29, concession 4, lots 28, 29, 30, concession 3, lot 30, concession 2 Cavendish, (Gold Lake Area) as outlined in Schedule A attached to Natural Resources letter of September 16, 1981 was supported.

The application to Natural Resources by Ira Robertson for construction of a road over crown land on lots 28 and 29, concession 4 Cavendish, was supported subject to all slash and debris being disposed of to the satisfaction of the Ministry of Natural Resources.

The application to Natural Resources by a Mr. Weitzel for construction of a road over crown land on lots 27 & 28, concession 4, Cavendish was supported subject to the following conditions: - all trees are to be felled and piled to the side of the right-of-way prior to bulldozing.

- all brush, stumps and debris to be burned, buried or otherwise disposed of to the satisfaction of the Ministry.

- all banks formed by movement of fill material with in the right-of-way during construction are to be sloped to a natural grade upon completion.

- at the nearest point to the lake, a buffer of at least 100 feet between the road and the lake must be maintained, where no trees are to be removed.

ly one of the worst in the county.

Francis asked if a development designation request would carry more weight with the MTC if it came from the county rather than Snowdon.

But county engineer Bill Obee replied that the problem is double edged and would not be changed if the county assumed the road. The traffic count on the road is too low to meet the MTC's criteria for development road designation, and the road is so rough that very few vehicles travel it, Obee indicated.

Warden Murray Fearrey said Snowdon Township will have to dig into its own coffers to pay for basic up-grading of the road that might increase traffic counts to the required level.
